

Weather Hands Areas in Ohio Sunday Punch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The weather dealt Ohio another Sunday punch over the weekend, including two tornadoes, but only one weather-related death was reported.

Severe thunderstorms, winds up to 67 miles and baseball-size hailstones also walloped the state.

One twister struck along a rural area one and half miles long near the village of Ithaca in Darke County, destroying or severely damaging five barns and injuring a farm couple.

At the tiny village of Thornport, near the Licking - Perry county line in the Buckeye Lake area, another tornado cut a path about three miles long. It damaged a grain elevator and overturned a house trailer which caught fire.

All the occupants escaped, however, when a mother rushed to the scene, kicked out a window and enabled her son, Robert Jones, 23, and his wife, and three children to escape. The mother was Mrs. Wayne Jones, who lives nearby.

In Darke County, the twister struck early in the evening.

James and Lora Johnson had just finished with their evening chores and were walking from the barn to the house when the funnel cloud hit. Both were tossed several feet as the twister tore the roof off the barn. They were treated by a physician and later released.

The roof of another barn not far away was tossed into the middle of a county road. Many trees and "hot" wires were downed, not only in the tornado area, but also as the high winds and thunderstorms pounded the state from Cincinnati to Cleveland.

The only areas not affected by the severe Sunday weather were the northwestern counties, where the majority of 58 Ohioans were killed in the Palm Sunday tornadoes, and the extreme southeastern counties.

The weather caused an auto accident that killed a 17-year-old Cincinnati youth, and three Cleveland area brothers were struck and injured by lightning, one critically.

Port Columbus Airport's weather bureau recorded the 67-mile-an-hour winds. Three private planes parked at the airport were damaged by the gusting winds.

In downtown Columbus, three windows were knocked out of the

Selma To Erase School Color Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Office of Education announced Sunday that the Selma, Ala., school district and 35 others in the South have agreed to desegregate by the fall of 1967 or earlier.

The Mississippi Board of Education has also agreed to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the announcement by U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel said.

The Selma plan provides for desegregating four grades this fall, four grades in 1966 and four grades in 1967. Selma is the 74th Southern school district to submit an acceptable voluntary plan for desegregation. The city has been the scene of mass voter-right demonstrations.

Vatican Is Seen Reversing Stand

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican drafting commission has changed the Ecumenical Council's proposed schema on modern world problems to state that a nation may be forced to stockpile and use nuclear weapons to insure its survival.

The change, reported by Vatican sources, was considered a victory for Roman Catholic bishops from the United States and Britain. The previous text urged that nuclear weapons be "utterly destroyed and banned."

American and British prelates contended that this ignored political realities.

PROPOSES EXCISE TAX CUT — President Lyndon Johnson announced from the White House that he proposes to ask Congress for a federal excise tax cut totalling about $4 billion and to become effective July 1, and extending to 1970. County Solons Considering Purchase of Mound St. Home

A new approach designed to relieve crowded conditions at the Pickaway Courthouse is under consideration by the County Board of Commissioners.

The solons today viewed the Dr. Walter F. Heine home at 109 E. Mound St. as a possible property the county could purchase. The house has 18 major rooms, and a combination garage-apartment is located on the south side of the lot.

Commission Chairman Lloyd

Melvin said the Board's consideration will include an extensive study prior to any decision to purchase the property. However, all three solons indicated the large house would be an ideal facility to help overcome the lack of Courthouse space.

Solon Charles Morris said the home, if purchased, could provide ample office space for departments such as County Welfare, Child Welfare and others. He said the many rooms in the house could possibly curtail the county's office space needs for years to come.

THE Mound St. structure is the old Friedman (Ted Lewis) homeplace. It has been occupied by Dr. Heine and his family for many years.

The Courthouse space problem has confronted the County Commission for several years. Several projects have been set in motion, but without success.

One of the first steps was an expansion program at the Courthouse proper. Another was to erect a separate Welfare Department building at the County Fairgrounds, with state financial support.

However, both projects failed to gain the necessary head of steam to become reality. Finances and location feasibility seemed to be the greatest drawbacks.

Melvin said the Fairgrounds project has not been completely abandoned. He defined this as one of the factors that must be considered before negotiations could be approved for purchase of the Heine property.

The property is listed with Robert Adkins, local realtor.

Grandmother of Dead Baby To Be Questioned

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police are waiting to question the grandmother of a newborn boy found dead nine days ago beneath a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad trestle near downtown Akron.

An 18-year-old Akron girl, the baby's mother, said she gave birth to the infant at her home May 8 and the baby's grandmother left with it after trying to get it to breathe. Submitting County Coroner A. H. Kyriakides has ruled the death a homicide.

$4 Billion Tax Relief Is Asked by President

Excise Levies Are Targets

No Harm Is Seen To Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson formally submitted to Congress today his bid to cut excise taxes by nearly $4 billion, and gave assurances he sees no indication that spending for defense of the free world would upset the planned reduction.

The President filled in the chinks in a program he already had announced Saturday. And he said that the recommendations "will accomplish, prudently and responsibly, a major reform of the excise tax structure."

The Johnson plan would eliminate some of the existing excise taxes on July 1, with a total slash of $1.75 billion on that date and with a reduction of the same amount effective next Jan. 1.

Beyond that, Johnson is proposing a $464-million slash spread over several years, up to 1970.

Apparently aware of some misgivings over whether the government should make such substantial tax cuts in view of possible increases in military spending in Viet Nam especially, Johnson told Congress:

"In proposing these reductions, I am fully aware of our present and prospective commitments for the defense of the free world. It is impossible to predict precisely what expenditure

Junk Rockets Reported To Be Harmless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A flurry of worry over some military rockets apparently was needless, a Lockbourne Air Force Base spokesman said today.

The worry began when a 500-pound warhead for a Tiny Tim rocket was found last Tuesday in a Chillicothe junkyard. It apparently was live.

An Army ordnance unit removed that warhead. Then five other warheads turned up at two Columbus scrapyards.

Those were taken to Lockbourne Air Force Base where two of them were opened by an ordnance expert who reported they had been safely "de-militarized." Apparently, however, somebody had neglected to mark the warheads to indicate they had been made safe.

Four of the warheads from the obsolete Tiny Tim Rocket were found at one Columbus yard. A second Columbus scrap dealer had three others—one of them the one which turned up later in Chillicothe.

A second one was taken to Lockbourne.

A spokesman said the third warhead which had been in that yard had given indications that there wasn't much danger in the devices. He explained that it had been cut up some time ago, without incident.

U.S. Seeks Resignation Of Junta in Dominica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The United States was reported pressuring the Dominican junta to resign as junta tanks battled the rebels in northern Santo Domingo Sunday night.

Tank-led junta forces renewed their offensive against the rebels in a driving rain. The battle had raged through Saturday night, diminished around the noon Sunday, only to flare up again Sunday night.

Residents who fled the area north of the east-west supply corridor reported heavy military and civilian casualties.

U.S. troops were not involved in the action, but three U.S. paratroopers were wounded Saturday night during a heavy exchange of fire between rebels and the 82nd U.S. Airborne Brigade.

A U.S. spokesman said the firing across the Ozama River was the heaviest action recorded for a 24-hour period since U.S. forces arrived.

The American troops control the river's west bank and the rebels the east. The rebels have been using mortars and heavy-caliber weapons against the Top-Ranking Polish Envoy Asks Asylum

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. officials questioned the chief of Poland's military mission in West Berlin today after he defected and asked for political asylum in the United States.

A U.S. Air Force plane flew Wladislaw Tykocinski, about 44, to West Germany. U.S. officials said his request for asylum was being considered.

It was the first defection in years of a high-ranking Communist diplomat in West Berlin. Tykocinski had the rank of minister — corresponding to that of a major general — and was the senior foreign diplomat in West Berlin.

The Polish and Czechoslovak military missions were established in West Berlin after World War II and are accredited to the Western Allies. Their work now ostensibly is confined largely to consular matters, and most of the military members have been replaced by civilian diplomats. But Western intelligence authorities claim that they are important espionage centers.

Tykocinski had been in West Berlin five years. A friend said he had been minister in the Polish Embassy in Rome previously and before that was a member of the International Armistice Commission in Korea.

No 'Winner' Is Seen In U.S. Viet Policy Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some who stayed to listen and argue for hours came away feeling there was no winning side.

But college students and professors, after a weekend mass "teach-in" discussion of U.S. Viet Nam policy, seem to think the idea is simply great.

"Questioning of American foreign policy is a responsibility university students have never taken on before in this country," said Margaret Thomas, a political science student at American University in Washington. "They should have done so long ago."

"The teach-in was great," said Janet Gladfelter, another American University student.

"But it came three months too late. There has been no debate on President Johnson's decision to bomb North Viet Nam."

The scene of the marathon, 15 hours of discussion, Saturday was Washington. It was broadcast by radio and television to more than 100 college campuses. In some instances, groups watched a few hours, then got into their own lengthy debates over the U.S. position in Viet Nam.

Carroll Cagle, former editor of the campus newspaper at New Mexico University, and Thomas Horn, a student council member at that school, said they didn't think either the administration or critics of its policy won the debate.

Reaction to the teach-in was mixed, a survey found.

Some verbal heat was directed at McGee Bundy, presidential adviser on national security, who canceled out of the Washington program at the last minute.

Some leaders of the teach-in wired Bundy Sunday asking for

Billy Graham Ends Denmark Crusade

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Billy Graham flew to Switzerland today for a vacation with his daughter and Swiss son-in-law after a week's Danish crusade in which he was heard by 65,700 persons. A total of 875 made decisions for Christ.

"We have been so encouraged by this crusade here that we will consider accepting invitations from Norway, Sweden and Finland," said the 46-year-old American evangelist.

Graham ended his crusade Sunday night with a request that the Danes pray "that a great spiritual awakening will take place in Alabama, so that men of both races will meet in God." Danish newspapers gave much space to U.S. racial problems.

Weekend Mishaps Kill 18 Persons in Ohio

The teach-in was praised as a "searching public investigation" by Stanley Spector, a professor at Washington University in St. Louis. He predicted its continued use, saying, "When government gets too far from the people, it is going to be called to account again in this way."

Celestial Lab Site Given to Air Force

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is giving the Air Force a plot of land in the John Bryan State Park near Yellow Springs for a research laboratory which may play a major role in future space exploration.

Plans for construction of what will be known as the Air Force Celestial Guidance facility were announced jointly by the state and Air Force Sunday.

The laboratory, to be operated by the Air Force Avionics Laboratory at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, will design, build and evaluate navigation and guidance devices for space and aircraft flights using stars as a prime reference.

The state park site was selected, the announcement said, because the laboratory must be isolated from residential developments and shopping areas where light is scattered into the air, and must be located in an area where there is no direct lighting from the ground.

"Light entering the field of view of the instrument under test would cause the experimenter to lose the star reference," Ralph H. Becker, technical manager for celestial navigation in the Avionics Laboratory, said.

9 Still Missing After Avalanche

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Nine persons were still missing today in West Germany's worst recorded avalanche. Eight bodies have been recovered and a German mechanic died from injuries today.

The avalanche roared down 9,719-foot Mt. Zugspitze Saturday and swept over a terrace of the Schneefarnhaus Hotel, sweeping sunbathing tourists from their seats.

Police announced today that 26 of 35 persons listed as missing have been accounted for. They said there was hope some of the remaining nine had also gotten away but did "realize they were being sought."

Boy Ships Self Home Air Express

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brian Robson, 19, is a homesick Welsh traveler who tried to express himself home from Australia in a crate aboard a jet airliner.

Robson, who said he was trying to get to Britain as cheaply as possible, shipped himself c.o.d., billed as a computer.

After 92 hours — the last 14 spent stalled on what seemed an interminable stopover — the youth decided to emerge from the box and see where he was.

"I wasn't too healthy," said Robson in the prison ward of County General Hospital, where Immigration Service authorities took him Sunday after smashing open the box in an airport warehouse.

He said three companions had nailed him into the crate in Melbourne and forwarded him to Sydney on an Ansett-Australian National Airlines plane. The crate measured 30 by 26 by 38 inches and was provided with special panels which were supposed to break when he hampered on them.

But they didn't. Instead, his hammer did, and he had to call for help. He got help, but now he wonders where it is going to get him.

He hopes authorities, now that he's been booked on federal charges as a stowaway and illegal entrant to the United States, will deport him home to Cardiff, South Wales. He left 10 months ago, with the Australian government paying his fare under a program to attract skilled settlers.

Robson, smiling and talking cheerfully, sipped at soup and milk attendants gave him to relieve his dehydrated condition.

"I was dead scared from the moment I started," he said. "But I just couldn't afford to get home any other way and I had to make it." He said his disappointment with his Australian railroad job and his homesickness got the better of him.

His training as an apprentice electrician gave him the idea of labeling his crate "Ajax junior computer."

"But they sure didn't handle it like a computer," he said. "At one point they turned me upside down and left me that way for 22 hours. What a headache I had when they finally righted me."

He arrived in Los Angeles aboard a Pan American flight from Sydney — a 21-hour, 7,716-mile hop. In the crate the 5-foot-8, 140-pound Robson carried a small suitcase, two pint-sized water bottles, two magazines, a flashlight to read by and seven cookies.

He said that by 8 a. m. he had decided that if in two hours the crate hadn't been hoisted aboard a plane he planned to break out.

"Then I got faint and started to hammer my way out."

Pan American authorities said the crate would not have left for London until noon today.

Billy Graham Ends Denmark Crusade

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Billy Graham flew to Switzerland today for a vacation with his daughter and Swiss son-in-law after a week's Danish crusade in which he was heard by 65,700 persons. A total of 675 made decisions for Christ.

"We have been so encouraged by this crusade here that we will consider accepting invitations from Norway, Sweden and Finland," said the 46-year-old American evangelist.

Graham ended his crusade Sunday night with a request that the Danes pray "that a great spiritual awakening will take place in Alabama, so that men of both races will meet in God." Danish newspapers give much space to U.S. racial problems.

Weekend Mishaps Kill 18 Persons in Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 18 persons lost their lives in accidents around Ohio during the weekend. Fifteen of the victims were young people, in their 20s or younger.

Thirteen were reported killed on the state's highways, including seven persons in their 20s and four teen-agers. The other two traffic victims were aged 67 and 39.

Three persons drowned, and two died when they walked into the paths of trains.

one point they turned me upside down and left me that way for 22 hours. What a headache I had when they finally righted me."

He arrived in Los Angeles aboard a Pan American flight from Sydney — a 21-hour, 7,716-mile hop. In the crate the 5-foot-8, 140-pound Robson carried a small suitcase, two pint-sized water bottles, two magazines, a flashlight to read by and seven cookies.

He said that by 8 a. m. he had decided that if in two hours the crate hadn't been hoisted aboard a plane he planned to break out.

"Then I got faint and started to hammer my way out."

Pan American authorities said the crate would not have left for London until noon today.

tures these may involve in the future. There is, however, no present indication that expenditures will increase to an extent that would make these excise tax reductions inadvisable.

"Indeed, our international responsibilities require that we redouble our efforts to assure the continued healthy growth of our economy. Barring some sudden change in the present world situation, I am sure that these excise tax reductions will be a sound and profitable investment in that growth."

And, to insure that the tax reduction make a maximum contribution to price stability and balanced prosperity, Johnson said:

"I call on American business to translate lower excise taxes promptly into lower retail prices for consumers."

Johnson spelled out in more detail his proposals made in a statement Saturday:

On retail taxes — those the buyers pay in the markets and stores — the complete repeal of levies on handbags, luggage, toilet articles, jewelry and furs on July 1.

On taxes manufacturers pay before the products reach the dealers — complete repeal on July 1 of those on business machines, sporting goods other than fishing gear, radios, television sets, phonographs and records, musical instruments, cameras, film and other photographic equipment, refrigerators, freezers, air conditioners, electric, gas and oil appliances, fountain and ballpoint pens, mechanical pencils, lighters, matches and playing cards.

Miscellaneous taxes — Repeal at midyear of those on safe deposit boxes, coin-operated amusement devices, bowling alleys and pool tables.

As previously announced, the tax on cars would come down from 10 to 7 per cent July 1 and later on to 5 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1967. There would be an intermediate reduction to 6 per cent on Jan. 1, 1966.

But Johnson proposed to retain a 5 per cent tax on passenger cars permanently as an important source of federal revenue.

Effective Jan. 1, of next year, Johnson proposed:

Admission taxes — Complete repeal, including the tax on admissions to certain movies, theaters, concerts, racing and athletic events, cabarets and club dues.

Repeal of manufacturer's taxes on lubricating oil and electric light bulbs, and repeal of the tax on auto parts and accessories except those primarily for truck use.

Repeal of the documentary stamp taxes on stocks and bonds and deeds.

A cut in local and long-distance telephone taxes from 10 to 3 per cent, with teleprinter service included, and with a further reduction of 1 per cent a year each Jan. 1 until the tax is wiped out entirely by 1969.

In keeping with his proposal to expand taxes on those who use roads, waterways and aviation facilities financed in part by the federal government, Johnson proposed that the present tax of 5 per cent on air passenger service be made permanent.

He also recommended that Congress approve a higher cost estimate for the interstate highway system, an estimate now up by $5.6 billion, and that it authorize the necessary appropriations to complete this system.

The President said existing user taxes will provide nearly $2 billion of the extra costs, leaving about $3 billion to be raised by extending some user taxes beyond their present expiration date, by increasing some of these taxes, or both.

For one thing, he asked that the date for reducing taxes earmarked for the highway trust fund be extended from Sept. 30, 1972, to Feb. 28, 1973. For another, he proposed imposing more user taxes on heavy trucks, to bring in about $200 million annually until 1973.

This would be done by raising the tax on diesel fuel to 7 cents from 4 cents a gallon, increasing the weight tax to $5 from $3 a thousand pounds on trucks having a taxable gross weight above 26,000 pounds, and doubling the tax on tread rubber to 10 cents from 5 cents a pound.

The President said he will recommend that the size and weight limits on trucks plying the interstate system be raised as soon as just and appropriate user charges are enacted.

On users of the inland waterways, Johnson recommended imposing a 2 cents a gallon tax on fuel. He noted that no user charge of any kind is in effect now on those who travel these waterways and the proposed tax would recover only a small amount of operating and maintenance costs of the waterways.

Johnson said these costs amount to more than $50 million a year, and another $200 million a year goes into new investments in the waterways.

The White House mission also includes McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President on national security affairs; Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus C. Vance, and Jack H. Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

Jose Antonio Mayobre de Venezuela, appointed by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant as his special representative to the Dominican Republic, arrives today. He is to report to the U.N. Security Council on the situation.

A team of U.N. observers toured the 20 blocks of the capital held by the rebels. They were greeted by shouts of "United Nations si, OAS, no," and "Out with the Yankees."

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said on the ABC television program "Issues and Answers" in Washington Sunday that the United States had "good solid information" it has not made public concerning Communist involvement in the Dominican revolt.

But he retreated from previous contentions by U.S. officials that Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the rebel leader, is dominated by Communists.

"There is no contention that Col. Caamano today is dominated by the Communists," Harriman said.

Caamano said in a CBS television interview on Face the Nation that he blamed U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett Jr. for the problems in his strife-torn nation.

"Mr. Bennett has sent the wrong information to the United States," Caamano said.

Moonshine Proves Costly To Motorist

A partially filled bottle of "moonshine" whisky was the apparent cause of a Kentucky resident receiving $250 in fines plus a 3-day jail sentence today in Circleville Municipal Court.

Homer Owens, Olive Hill, Ky., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants and with illegal possession of "moonshine" whisky.

He was arrested early today after the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department received a complaint a northbound car on Route 23 was "all over the road."

Deputy Homer Adams made the arrest. He said he found two empty bottles that apparently had contained moonshine, in addition to the partially filled bottle in the car.

On the charge of driving while under the influence, the judge levied a fine of $150 and costs, sentenced Owens to three days in jail and ordered his driver's rights suspended for six months.

On the illegal possession count, he was fined $100 and costs and handed a suspended 60-day jail sentence. He was placed on probation for three years.

Owens entered a plea of guilty to both charges.

Court Hears Two Cases

Two criminal matters were heard today during a session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court, with Judge William Ammer presiding.

Earl L. Wooten, Springfield, was given a three-year probationary sentence on an April indictment for non-support. He changed his original plea of innocent to guilty.

An indictment charging Lawrence E. Spencer with attempted breaking and entering a building was dismissed by the court. Spencer, indicted by the April grand jury, pleaded innocent to the charge and the court appointed Charles Wilburn, local attorney, to represent him.

Wilburn requested the dismissal today on the grounds that "essential wording" was omitted from the indictment. The request was granted and bond was set at $2,500 for Spencer. According to Judge Ammer, the case will be considered again by the next session of the grand jury.

Supersonic Problems

It was a foregone conclusion that the government would decide to go ahead with development of the supersonic transport despite the $12,854 it has paid to 229 damage claimants as a result of the tests over Oklahoma City. After all, the highly-touted transport of the future has taken on something of a sweepstakes image with the entry into the race for the first workable model by France, the Soviet Union and Britain.

What test results would have been required to discourage the Federal Aviation Agency are not clear, but obviously more than sleepless nights and a few broken windows and cracked plaster.

So, retiring chief of the FAA, Najeeb Halaby, has announced the supersonic transport is still on. Details can be worked out by the 1970s, he thinks, to keep the sonic boom down to a roar.

This may entail keeping plane routes away from cities and altitudes high, or using as much ocean space as possible. Presumably the fish wouldn't mind the noise.

More than likely, people will just have to get used to a certain new noise of the space age, one guaranteed to shake a person out of bed more effectively than any alarm clock and provide a continuing market for the services of glaziers and masons.

Modern civilization would be quieter without the transportation systems it uses, but part of the excitement of riding on the old steam-driven train was the chug, whistle and hiss. And it is hard to picture a quiet stagecoach, steamship or piston-driven airplane.

By the time rocket ships blast their paths across continents, even the sonic boom and rattling foundations will probably seem like the good old days.

'Harry The Horse' Delivers

By Hal Boyle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Harry the Horse" delivers the goods in South Viet Nam.

He is Lt. Col. Harry G. Howton, commander of the 311th Air Commando Squadron, and one of the most colorful fliers on the battlefield here.

This is the third war for the 47-year-old, leathery-faced officer who comes from Birmingham, Ala., and has three children.

Still a "gung ho" airman at an age when many of his contemporaries are flight - borne only in swivel chairs, Harry's decorations include 11 Oak Leaf Clusters to his Air Medal. He has been checked out in more than 100 types of aircraft.

He flew 46 combat missions in the Far East during World War II and 58 in Korea in 1950. Since coming out here last October he has been on 380 missions.

He is called "Harry the Horse" because he and his men are literally the aerial workhorses of the war.

Their steeds are big two-engine C123s which lumber through the skies at 150 knots like huge noisy flying factories.

The planes can land and take off on a 1,400-foot runway or less and carry about twice the load of the old C47s, the workhorse of World War II.

The 311th Air Commando Squadron is one of four of its type in this area. It has 17 planes, of which about 14 usually are operational at any one time.

It has many missions. It carries the mail, evacuates wounded, injured or ailing Americans to the U.S. Army 8th Field Hospital at Nha Trang.

At night a crew may be called out to drop flares to pinpoint the position of enemy Viet Cong making a nocturnal assault.

But their main job is to serve as a lifeline to Vietnamese and U.S. special forces units in isolated mountain bastions between here and the Laotian border.

Troops and supplies of all kinds are either landed at small perilous strips near the outposts or dropped by parachutes.

"We'll carry or drop anything that fits into the plane," Howton said.

The work is difficult and dangerous but rarely monotonous. The four-man crews wear flak outfits, but their thin aircraft are frequently ventilated by guerrilla ground fire.

"About 10 to 15 airplanes get hit a month, and a number of our men have been wounded, but we've never had a fatality from enemy fire," said Howton.

The pilots fly as many as 10 combat sorties a day. "Harry the Horse" often does, too. Despite his executive duties, in a recent 20-day period he flew 105 missions.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — What-ever cuts in excise taxes Congress finally makes the boost to the economy could be also larger than the revenue loss to the Treasury.

Just how big a boost is hard to pinpoint because it involves pricing policies of corporations and the mushrooming effect that lower price tags can have on consumer spending urges.

But both the administration and business are counting upon a considerable impetus to spending, and hence all the way back the line to production. The impetus will be welcome since the Treasury will be collecting about $4.7 billion more from employees and employers in higher Social Security tax rates starting Jan. 1. That is, it will be taking that much more out of the economy that might otherwise be spent for goods and services. Increased Social Security benefits for retired persons to spend will make up for only part of this drain.

Just how many more furs, jewelry, luggage and cosmetics will be bought if the 10 per cent federal excise levy at retail (a sales tax) is dropped can't be forecast for sure. But merchants think the lower prices will bring these items into the family budget range of many more persons, and also lure hordes of bargain seekers who have been holding off. And one piece of new finery often creates the yen for others to match.

If Congress decides to lower the manufacturers tax on autos soon, or in stages over the next few years, car makers are confident sales will be enhanced and the four-year sales boom extended. The tax now brings the Treasury about $1.8 billion a year.

That any tax saving will be passed along in retail car prices — the tax is now included in the retail price — isn't a sure thing. But stiff sales competition in the industry makes it look likely.

About 49 other products are included in present excise tax levies at the manufacturers level. They include such consumer items as radio and television sets, phonographs, records, light bulbs, mechanical pencils, pens and lighters, and such office items as auto parts and business machine, and such services as toll telephone calls, telegrams, cable and radio messages.

as a lifeline to Vietnamese and U.S. special forces units in isolated mountain bastions between here and the Laotian border.

Troops and supplies of all kinds are either landed at small perilous strips near the outposts or dropped by parachutes.

"We'll carry or drop anything that fits into the plane," Howton said.

The work is difficult and dangerous but rarely monotonous. The four-man crews wear flak outfits, but their thin aircraft are frequently ventilated by guerrilla ground fire.

"About 10 to 15 airplanes get hit a month, and a number of our men have been wounded, but we've never had a fatality from enemy fire," said Howton.

The pilots fly as many as 10 combat sorties a day. "Harry the Horse" often does, too. Despite his executive duties, in a recent 20-day period he flew 105 missions.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever cuts in excise taxes Congress finally makes the boost to the economy could be also larger than the revenue loss to the Treasury.

Just how big a boost is hard to pinpoint because it involves pricing policies of corporations and the mushrooming effect that lower price tags can have on consumer spending urges.

But both the administration and business are counting upon a considerable impetus to spending, and hence all the way back the line to production.

The impetus will be welcome

since the Treasury will be collecting about $4.7 billion more from employees and employers in higher Social Security tax rates starting Jan. 1. That is, it will be taking that much more out of the economy that might otherwise be spent for goods and services. Increased Social Security benefits for retired persons to spend will make up for only part of this drain.

Just how many more furs, jewelry, luggage and cosmetics will be bought if the 10 per cent federal excise levy at retail (a sales tax) is dropped can't be forecast for sure. But merchants think the lower prices will bring these items into the family budget range of many more persons, and also lure hordes of bargain seekers who have been holding off. And one piece of new finery often creates the yen for others to match.

If Congress decides to lower the manufacturers tax on autos soon, or in stages over the next few years, car makers are confident sales will be enhanced and the four-year sales boom extended. The tax now brings the Treasury about $1.8 billion a year.

That any tax saving will be passed along in retail car prices — the tax is now included in the retail price — isn't a sure thing. But stiff sales competition in the industry makes it look likely.

About 49 other products are included in present excise tax levies at the manufacturers level. They include such consumer items as radio and television sets, phonographs, records, light bulbs, mechanical pencils, pens and lighters, and such manufacturers and business office items as auto parts and business machine, and such services as toll telephone calls, telegrams, cable and radio messages.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PECULIAR LOOKING gent accosted the maitre d' of a hotel and announced, "The alumni of the psycho ward of our hospital are desirous of giving a dinner party for 300 guests. They will propose paying you in bottle tops. Humor them. I'll take care of the bill personally the next day."

"It's an unusual proposition," hazarded the maitre d', "but this is our slack season so I'll take a chance."

The dinner was a tremendous success, and sure enough, the maitre d' wound up with 45,000 bottle caps in his safe. The next day the entrepreneur, as per his promise, came to redeem them. "45,000 tops, eh?" he said cheerfully. "Turn them over to me, Brother—and now all you have to do is give me the proper change for the cover of this garbage can."

A New York couple, lured by an ad, booked a room for a fortnight at a Vermont "hotel," but didn't like what they saw when they got there. "Why, you have more cows than you have guests here," expostulated the chagrined husband. "How do you explain that?" Snapped the Vermontier. "We prefer 'em."

A student at Boston University wavered for some time between a career as a barber or life as an author. He ultimately flipped a coin to see whether it came up heads or tails.

Congo of the Caribbean

By John Chamberlain

If I were a statesman looking for a meaningful opinion about what goes on in the Dominican Republic, I would ask Peter Nehemkis, a Washington lawyer who has had an extensive experience in Latin America, to speak up. The reason is that Mr. Nehemkis is a nice combination of idealist, skeptic, and indefatigable fact - grubber who stands above the factions. He was a member of the group of professors and businessmen who, just prior to the election of President Kennedy, prepared a momentous report suggesting a Latin American Alliance for Progress. In 1962, he visited the Dominican Republic as a member of the OAS Observation Mission that was charged with watching the polling that resulted in the victory of Juan Bosch. He liked Bosch then, but he remembers thinking Bosch's promises were too big.

In between trips to South America for the Whirlpool Corporation, Mr. Nehemkis made other stops in Santo Domingo. Bosch's performance as the first freely elected President of the island country left him cold. The man seemed afflicted with hubris, which is the classical Greek word for what Mr. Nehemkis calls "the insolence of irreverence."

Bosch offended most of the important people who had supported his election. The names of some of these people have been prominent in the recent dispatches from Santo Domingo. One of them was General Antonio Imbert Barreras, the sole surviving member of the group of seven who ambushed the dictator Trujillo and killed him. Another was Peruvian - trained Captain - later General - Elias Wessin y Wessin, a young and scrupulously patriotic air force officer who, on one occasion, had saved the day for the Council of State that was set up early in 1962 to arrange for the election that Bosch later won with sixty per cent of the vote.

Nehemkis joins with an ex-State Department official, Paul Bethel, head of the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, in thinking that Bosch got what was coming to him when his "resignation" as President, offered in a moment of pique in an unsuccessful attempt to get rid of Wessin y Wessin, was accepted somewhat irregularly by a general and a civilian member of the government. (This "resignation" has never been reported except by Nehemkis in a book published last fall.)

Bosch had tried to create a personal militia answerable to himself alone. He had attempted to gather all the workers of the Dominican Republic into a State - bossed labor union. He had driven many good men from government, but the "soft on Communism" people remained. Finally, he had tried to start a war with Haiti on the flimsiest of pretexts in order to divert attention from his country's domestic difficulties.

What followed after Bosch's "resignation," which admittedly he did not sincerely mean, was pure tragedy. Donald Reid Cabral, the head of the junta that took over after Bosch's exile, was, in Peter Nehemkis' words "a decent, incorruptible human being, the last best hope for the Dominican Republic." Reid tried to put the country on an austerity program, which annoyed the businessmen. He tried to purge the army of corruption. But it all became too much for him. Nobody seemed willing to work.

Last year Peter Nehemkis, in his book about Latin America, remarked that "in the world of mythology Dr. Juan Bosch is a martyr, sacrificed on the altar of democracy. But in the world of reality, his failure as a democratic leader handed Castro a bloodless victory." The danger is that too many in Washington are still willing to accept Bosch's martyrdom for real.

As for Castro's "bloodless victory," only the quick dispatch of the Marines to Santo Domingo by President Lyndon Johnson has prevented the Cuban tyrant from cashing in on it. But the Dominican Republic, says Mr. Nehemkis, is fated to become "the Congo of the Caribbean."

"There are no tools for Twentieth Century rule in the whole country," he says. "Caamaño, the rebel chief, is a typical product of Trujillo decadence. He is a butcher who wiped out a whole village, as you will read in Bosch's own book. The only tradition in the Republic is conspiracy. Bosch himself set this last conspiracy in motion; he couldn't wait until September for an election."

Looks as though the U. S. Marines and the OAS are fated to remain in Santo Domingo for a long time. That is, unless the Congo in the Caribbean is to fall to Castro.

Eustachian tube in the back of the nose. This keeps the ear drum freely movable.

Large adenoids, nasal allergies, infected sinuses, a rapid descent in an airplane or scuba diving can interfere with this sensitive mechanism. When adequate air does not flow into the Eustachian tube a vacuum develops which is then followed by an accumulation of fluid. A blocked sensation in the ear, with impaired hearing, are characteristic of this condition.

Early and intensive treatment is necessary, so that the fluid can be released before infections and chronic changes permanently damage the hearing mechanism.

The shrimp has passed salmon and tuna in recent years to become the most valuable seafood in the United States.

MR. AND MRS. CREATON W. KRAFT

Shawnee GC

Presents

Guest Arranger

The Shawnee Arrangers Garden Club presented Mrs. Henry Bircher of North Canton in a flower arrangement demonstration at St. Philip's Parish House.

Mrs. Bircher is a master judge, lecturer, flower arranger and chairman of Flower Show Schools of the Garden Clubs of Ohio.

She opened the demonstration by designing a traditional arrangement in a patriotic mood and noted that though there are new trends in flower arranging there is still a place for traditional designs.

The guest made arrangements in many moods including free form, oriental, avant garde and abstract. She emphasized that beauty is the business of gardeners and flower arrangers and the business should be operated in the home, the community and throughout the world.

She also stressed the fact that the beauty of nature is available to everyone and that anyone can learn to arrange flowers with practice.

Tea was served to the guests at the conclusion of the lecture. Mrs. C. K. Vaughn was in charge of the tea table. An arrangement of yellow iris in a silver compote with silver candelabra highlighted the table.

Mrs. Ray Carroll, president, and Mrs. James Moffitt, presided at the tea.

Flower show judges from Dayton, Waverly and Columbus, as well as local judges were present.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Get the Point?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married man who comes to the office every day with big holes in the heels of his socks?

OFFICE GANG
DEAR GANG: Apparently his wife doesn't give a darn. And he's afraid to give her the needle.

DEAR ABBY: We are in our 50's, have grown children and grandchildren. My husband has a sports car, and he belongs to a car club for people who are crazy about sports cars. They go on long drives together. Each one is some kind of show-off, really. I have back trouble and my doctor says I can't ride in bucket seats or in fast swerving cars - so hubby says I am selfish when I refuse to go on these car trips with him. He drives his sports car to work 25 miles every day, yet he is mad when I tell him I want an ordinary-sized, comfortable car for week-ends. I realize he enjoys his sports car, but do we have to belong to a car club? We are twice as old as the average member.

DON'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: The family that plays together stays together. So if, due to a bad back, you can't race around in a sports car, your husband should turn in his goggles and helmet and join you for a game of checkers.

DEAR ABBY: My boy is 29 years old and he still lives at home. He has a good paying job which leaves him $416 a month take-home, not counting overtime. I keep his room cleaned up, do his laundry, see that his suit is pressed and I even shine his shoes. He eats breakfast at home every morning, I pack him a lunch, and he eats dinner at home about four nights a week. If he doesn't get sick every night he hollers. He gives me $50 a month and complains that this is too much. I would like to have an idea of how much other mothers get for the same kind of service. The next time he complains, what should I do?

HOUSTON
DEAR HOUSTON: Other mothers get twice that amount for half the service. Give your "boy" back his $50 and tell him to shop around for a better deal.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent TORONTO TELEGRAM there was a letter in your column regarding willing one's eyes after death. My husband died suddenly last summer. Both he and I had signed statements willing our eyes, but I was in a state of shock and forgot all about it until my 20-year-old son reminded me. My neighbor took the signed consent slip to the hospital immediately. (Time is an important element.) Thank heaven it wasn't too late.

Of all the hundreds of expressions of sympathy I received on the loss of my husband the one most comforting to me was a letter saying that my husband's eyes are helping TWO formerly blind people to see. You may use my name if you wish.

Yours truly,
BETTY BISHOP
DEAR ABBY: Maybe "WASHED UP" was washed up by 60, but how about "LOUIE THE LOVER BOY," a lovable character in our town who lost a paternity suit at the age of 76? KNEW LOUIE
DEAR KNEW LOUIE: The world will never know whether he was really guilty. What 76-year-old man would deny such a charge?

50th Anniversary Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Creaton W. Kraft, 658 E. Mound St., will be honored by their children with open house in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The event will take place 2-5 p. m. Sunday at their residence. The couple was married May 20, 1915, by the Rev. S. R. Shaw in the home of William H. Leist, Circleville. Mrs. Kraft was the former Pearl Leist.

They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn L. Frazier, Route 1, Stoutsville, and Miss Evelyn L. Kraft of the residence. They also have three grandchildren, Joyce A. Frazier, Neil K. Frazier and Mrs. Dale E. Wolfe.

Mrs. Kraft owns and operates a farm in Washington Twp. They have lived all their married lives in Pickaway County.

Mothers Honored by OES

Mothers were honored when members of Circleville Chapter

No. 90, OES, met recently in the Masonic Temple. Betty Liston was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Wilson Hosts Emmett Chapel WSCS

Mrs. Philip Wilson, Route 1, was hostess for the meeting of Emmett Chapel WSCS. Mrs. Austin Wilson and Mrs. Ellen Harmount were co-hostesses. Devotionals were in charge of the Rev. and Mrs. William Nelson.

New officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Harry Wright, president; Mrs. Janet Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Frank Graves, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Shepler, treasurer.

Mrs. Wright presided during the business meeting. The group decided to have a strawberry social June 3 in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Rev. Nelson displayed a preliminary sketch of the addition being planned for the church. Film strips were presented entitled, "Symbols of the Church" and "Let There Be Bread."

Refreshments were served to 19 members.

Some cooks like to taste canned ham that is being heated in the oven with apricot juice. Apricots make an excellent garnish for this dish.

Refreshments were served by Mary Helen McDonald and her committee.

Friendship Night will be observed at the next meeting with Royal Chapter No. 29, Washington C. H., as guests.

50th Anniversary Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Creaton W. Kraft, 658 E. Mound St., will be honored by their children with open house in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The event will take place 2-5 p. m. Sunday at their residence. The couple was married May 20, 1915, by the Rev. S. R. Shaw in the home of William H. Leist, Circleville. Mrs. Kraft was the former Pearl Leist.

They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn L. Frazier, Route 1, Stoutsville, and Miss Evelyn L. Kraft of the residence. They also have three grandchildren, Joyce A. Frazier, Neil K. Frazier and Mrs. Dale E. Wolfe. Mr. Kraft owns and operates a farm in Washington Twp. They have lived all their married lives in Pickaway County.

Mothers Honored by OES

Mothers were honored when members of Circleville Chapter

No. 90, OES, met recently in the Masonic Temple. Betty Liston was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Wilson Hosts Emmett Chapel WSCS

Mrs. Philip Wilson, Route 1, was hostess for the meeting of Emmett Chapel WSCS. Mrs. Austin Wilson and Mrs. Ellen Harcourt were co-hostesses. Devotionals were in charge of the Rev. and Mrs. William Nelson.

New officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Harry Wright, president; Mrs. Janet Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Frank Graves, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Shepler, treasurer.

Mrs. Wright presided during the business meeting. The group decided to have a strawberry social June 3 in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Rev. Nelson displayed a preliminary sketch of the addition being planned for the church. Film strips were presented entitled, "Symbols of the Church" and "Let There Be Bread."

Refreshments were served to 19 members.

Some cooks like to baste canned ham that is being heated in the oven with apricot juice. Apricots make an excellent garnish for this dish.

Kay Felkey, worthy advisor of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly No. 170 Order of the Rainbow for Girls, was introduced and several girls presented a Mother's Day program. A poem "Mother" was given by Kay Felkey; Patty Painter presented a piano solo, "More," and a solo "You Are a Wonderful Mother" was given by Marinel Leist. Patty Painter, Lin Cook, Ginger Smalley and Janet DeLong gave a skit, "Sit Still Mother." Brenda Mills presented a piano solo, "Clair de Lune."

Invitations to the following inspections were read: Golden Rule No. 442, Chagrin Falls, 8 p. m. May 27; Greenfield No. 497, 8 p. m. June 5; St. Clairsville No. 510, 4 p. m. June 12; Napoleon No. 232, 7:30 p. m. June 19.

A reception honoring Alden Lash, worthy grand patron, is scheduled 7:30 p. m. Sept. 18. Members were also invited to attend the installation of officers of Marie L. Hamilton Assembly No. 170, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, 7:30 p. m. June 1. Thank you notes were also read.

Refreshments were served by Mary Helen McDonald and her committee.

Friendship Night will be observed at the next meeting with Royal Chapter No. 29, Washington C. H., as guests.

Shawnee GC

Presents

Guest Arranger

The Shawnee Arrangers Garden Club presented Mrs. Henry Bircher of North Canton in a flower arrangement demonstration at St. Philip's Parish House.

Mrs. Bircher is a master judge, lecturer, flower arranger and chairman of Flower Show Schools of the Garden Clubs of Ohio.

She opened the demonstration by designing a traditional arrangement in a patriotic mood and noted that though there are new trends in flower arranging there is still a place for traditional designs.

The guest made arrangements in many moods including free form, oriental, avant garde and abstract. She emphasized that beauty is the business of gardeners and flower arrangers and the business should be operated in the home, the community and throughout the world.

She also stressed the fact that the beauty of nature is available to everyone and that anyone can learn to arrange flowers with practice.

Tea was served to the guests at the conclusion of the lecture. Mrs. C. K. Vaughn was in charge of the tea table. An arrangement of yellow iris in a silver compote with silver candelabra highlighted the table. Mrs. Ray Carroll, president, and Mrs. James Moffitt, presided at the tea.

Flower show judges from Dayton, Waverly and Columbus, as well as local judges were present.

Meet Announced

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 46 will meet 8:30 p. m. tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Roy Huffer Jr., Route 3.

Mrs. Charles Neff will be co-hostess.

Women's News

The Circleville Herald, Mon. May 17, 1965

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Get the Point?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married man who who comes to the office every day with big holes in the heels of his socks?

OFFICE GANG DEAR GANG: Apparently his wife doesn't give a darn. And he's afraid to give her the needle.

DEAR ABBY: We are in our 50's, have grown children and grandchildren. My husband has a sports car, and he belongs to a car club for people who are crazy about sports cars. They go on long drives together. Each one is some kind of show-off, really. I have back trouble and my doctor says I can't ride in bucket seats or in fast swerving cars -so hubby says I am selfish when I refuse to go on these car trips with him. He drives his sports car to work 25 miles every day, yet he is mad when I tell him I want an ordinary-sized, comfortable car for week-ends. I realize he enjoys his sports car, but do we have to belong to a car club? We are twice as old as the average member.

DON'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: The family that plays together stays together. So if, due to a bad back, you can't race around in a sports car, your husband should turn in his goggles and helmet and join you for a game of checkers.

DEAR ABBY: My boy is 29 years old and he still lives at home. He has a good paying job which leaves him $416 a month take-home, not counting overtime. I keep his room cleaned up, do his laundry, see that his suit is pressed and I even shine his shoes. He eats breakfast at home every morning. I pack him a lunch, and he eats dinner at home about four nights a week. If he doesn't get sick every night he hollers. He gives me $50 a month and complains that this is too much. I would like to have an idea of how much other mothers get for the same kind of service. The next time he complains, what should I do?

HOUSTON DEAR HOUSTON: Other mothers get twice that amount for half the service. Give your "boy" back his $50 and tell him to shop around for a better deal.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent TORONTO TELEGRAM there was a letter in your column regarding willing one's eyes after death. My husband died suddenly last summer. Both he and I had signed statements willing our eyes, but I was in a state of shock and forgot all about it until my 20-year-old son reminded me. My neighbor took the signed consent slip to the hospital immediately. (Time is an important element.) Thank heaven it wasn't too late.

Of all the hundreds of expressions of sympathy I received on the loss of my husband the one most comforting to me was a letter saying that my husband's eyes are helping TWO formerly blind people to see. You may use my name if you wish. Yours truly,

BETTY BISHOP DEAR ABBY: Maybe "WASHED UP" was washed up by 60, but how about "LOUIE THE LOVER BOY," a lovable character in our town who lost a paternity suit at the age of 76?

KNEW LOUIE DEAR KNEW LOUIE: The world will never know whether he was really guilty. What 76-year-old man would deny such a charge?

Megalopolis On Its Way

NE Ohio Growth
Hits Wide Area

KENT, Ohio AP—You may not be aware of it, but if you live in Northeastern Ohio, Megalopolis is on the way.

You can see its beginnings on the map, where growing tentacles reach out from one big urban center toward the next.

You see it in the dwindling open spaces as you drive in almost any direction in Northeast Ohio.

Practically all of the residents of Northeast Ohio are or soon will be residing within America's second rapidly growing Megalopolis," says Dr. Robert I. White, president of Kent State University.

The first area classified as Megalopolis is around New York City. Dr. White describes that area along the Atlantic seaboard this way:

Here the populace lives nearly house-to-house, door-to-door, from the area above Boston to that below Washington.

The second Megalopolis — described as a string or bunching of central cities, suburbs and satellite areas — is developing from Pittsburgh in a strip that runs through Chicago and Milwaukee.

Dr. White is sounding a call for an intelligent approach to regional planning to head off some problems which inevitably come with Megalopolis.

Under his leadership, Kent State is setting up a planning center to be known as the Center for Urban Regionalism.

Dr. Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the housing and home finance agency, will attend a conference on urban regionalism this weekend to help launch the new center. The two-day conference opens Friday, and Weaver is scheduled to address a dinner meeting Friday.

Where urban areas run together problems are bound to develop. These problems — transportation, water pollution, sewage disposal, flood control, maintenance of open spaces — need to be handled on a regional rather than a local basis, Dr. White says.

"The challenge is staggering," he adds. "It deserves immediate and urgent attention if we are to protect the welfare of our great country and the generations to come."

A DOWN PAYMENT OF BANANAS—Auto dealer Joe DeGonge makes the best of a bad deal in Bristol, Conn., as he eats part of Mrs. Bernice Wyszynski's 25-banana down payment for a car. Joe advertised a 1962 sedan for "1,395 bananas." You know those slang expressions. Well, Mrs. W. walked in with the 25-banana down payment and just wouldn't listen when Joe said he didn't really mean bananas, so what was there to do but honor ad?

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Childrens Theater" Sunday night was a delightfully sneaky program.

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP)

The orchestra played two encores and took 14 curtain calls before the enthusiastic audience.

warmth of family life, the affection of the children for the animal and — equally important — the nostalgic pastoral background of green meadows, red barns and sparkling streams.

President Johnson blandly continued his impromptu television appearances Saturday as the White House once again gave the networks very short notice that the President would have something to say before the cameras.

As it turned out, it was good news — the President's proposal to cut sharply the federal excise tax.

Perhaps Johnson as the bearer of good tidings has started to break that well-established pattern of making an unscheduled television statement only when there is grave or critical news to report. If so, and in spite of the networks' unhappiness about lack of advance notice, the television public will not complain.

NBC's news special, "The Man Who Walked In Space," Friday night consisted of some six minutes of beautiful and almost unbelievable color film made in space, surrounded by an excessively long and dull interview with the Soviet cosmonauts.

The interview with the two Soviet spacemen was difficult because it had to be done through an interpreter. Even when well done, this usually is deadly for the listeners.

Du Pont Plant Due for Award

Du Pont's Circleville film plant is one of 49 chemical facilities in Ohio selected to receive certificates of achievement for outstanding safety records in 1964.

The company plants and research facilities recognized by the chemical trade association worked a complete calendar year without an industrial injury.

The MCA program of awarding such certificates to chemical companies was initiated in 1949. Last year 594 facilities throughout the United States and Canada were honored. This year the total number of chemical installations operating without an industrial injury was 641.

Deductibles Given Nod

Medicare Setup
Is Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — After some hesitation, administration forces in the Senate are reported Saturday to have agreed to retain the deductibles in the new program of health care for the elderly.

But the decision was not reached, it is understood, until there was a review of the matter at the White House at a lengthy meeting in which President Johnson participated.

Some Democratic senators have been expressing the fear privately that there may be adverse political repercussions because of the requirement that patients pay part of their bills before they begin receiving benefits.

They explain that they believe many old persons, after eagerly anticipating the federal programs for years, may be deeply disappointed to find they must pay out cash sums to qualify for help.

There are three deductibles in the monumental Social Security health care bill passed by the House:

— A $40-payment before the patient can take advantage of the 60 days of hospitalization for each spell of illness.

— A $20-payment to qualify for outpatient hospital diagnostic services in the same Social Security-financed program.

— A $50-payment under the voluntary, supplemental plan covering chiefly doctors' fees. After this deductible, the plan pays 80 per cent and the patient 20 per cent.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chief sponsor of the bill in the Senate, told a reporter he believes its supporters will stand by these provisions in the Senate voting.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who serves with Anderson on the Finance Committee, said the deductibles undoubtedly will get a close look when the group starts closed sessions on the bill.

The committee is scheduled to complete its public hearings on the legislation on Wednesday and to begin drafting its version about May 25.

Witnesses for labor and welfare groups told the committee the deductibles will work a

Bridge-Bombin Strategy Eyed

U.S. Knocks Out
Single Spans Only

WASHINGTON (AP) — On orders from the Pentagon, U.S. bombers have been knocking out single bridge spans — rather than entire bridges — wherever possible in Communist North Viet Nam.

Military officials said this almost surgical precision has accomplished the purpose of disabling the bridges and interrupting traffic across them. At the same time, it has demonstrated to the Communists that the United States can exercise restraint.

Bombing of North Viet Nam, which began Feb. 7, has been in suspension for several days. If and when it is resumed, it is expected that the single-span attack technique will be continued.

Some time ago, it was learned, directives from the Pentagon to U.S. forces operating against North Viet Nam stipulated, among other things, that the operational objective would be one span of a bridge.

Informed sources suggested there was more than a purely military reason behind this instruction — that it fits in with the national policy of strictly controlled punishment designed to prod North Viet Nam into negotiating a settlement of the South Viet Nam war.

The pattern came to light last week when newsmen were questioning Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an Air Force fighter-bomber squadron commander who has led 30 missions against North Viet Nam.

A reporter noted that a display of pictures of knocked out bridges showed only one span down in almost every instance. Was that by design? Risner was asked.

"Yes," the veteran pilot replied. "We only go for one span, because if one span is knocked out the bridge is out of operation."

Risner added: "Our target intelligence people feel that this is all that is required and there was no reason to devote more of our effort to completely destroy it."

Highway Patrolman Awarded Citation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Superintendent's Citation of Merit has been presented to state highway patrolman Pearl S. Sparrow for his capture of a deranged gunman who escaped from the Columbus State Hospital last month.

Sparrow, 32, of the London post, was given the award Sunday by Patrol Supt. Anson B. Cook. Cook said Sparrow captured the 19-year-old gunman on foot after the fugitive abandoned a stolen car off U. S. 40 and fired a shotgun into the air in a bid to hold off the officer.

Cleveland Orchestra Is Hailed in Leningrad

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — A standing room only audience of more than 1,500 began chanting "Bravo" even before the intermission as the Cleveland Orchestra scored its second triumphant concert in Philharmonia Hall here Sunday night.

The orchestra played two encores and took 14 curtain calls before the enthusiastic audience.

warmth of family life, the affection of the children for the animal and — equally important — the nostalgic pastoral background of green meadows, red barns and sparkling streams.

President Johnson blandly continued his impromptu television appearances Saturday as the White House once again gave the networks very short notice that the President would have something to say before the cameras.

As it turned out, it was good news — the President's proposal to cut sharply the federal excise tax.

Perhaps Johnson as the bearer of good tidings has started to break that well-established pattern of making an unscheduled television statement only when there is grave or critical news to report. If so, and in spite of the networks' unhappiness about lack of advance notice, the television public will not complain.

NBC's news special, "The Man Who Walked In Space," Friday night consisted of some six minutes of beautiful and almost unbelievable color film made in space, surrounded by an excessively long and dull interview with the Soviet cosmonauts.

The interview with the two Soviet spacemen was difficult because it had to be done through an interpreter. Even when well done, this usually is deadly for the listeners.

Du Pont Plant Due for Award

Du Pont's Circleville film plant is one of 49 chemical facilities in Ohio selected to receive certificates of achievement for outstanding safety records in 1964.

The company plants and research facilities recognized by the chemical trade association worked a complete calendar year without an industrial injury.

The MCA program of awarding such certificates to chemical companies was initiated in 1949. Last year 594 facilities throughout the United States and Canada were honored. This year the total number of chemical installations operating without an industrial injury was 641.

Deductibles Given Nod

Medicare Setup Is Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — After some hesitation, administration forces in the Senate are reported Saturday to have agreed to retain the deductibles in the new program of health care for the elderly.

But the decision was not reached, it is understood, until there was a review of the matter at the White House at a lengthy meeting in which President Johnson participated.

Some Democratic senators have been expressing the fear privately that there may be adverse political repercussions because of the requirement that patients pay part of their bills before they begin receiving benefits.

They explain that they believe many old persons, after eagerly anticipating the federal programs for years, may be deeply disappointed to find they must pay out cash sums to qualify for help.

There are three deductibles in the monumental Social Security health care bill passed by the House:

— A $40-payment before the patient can take advantage of the 60 days of hospitalization for each spell of illness.

— A $20-payment to qualify for outpatient hospital diagnostic services in the same Social Security financed program.

— A $50-payment under the voluntary, supplemental plan covering chiefly doctors' fees. After this deductible, the plan pays 80 per cent and the patient 20 per cent.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chief sponsor of the bill in the Senate, told a reporter he believes its supporters will stand by these provisions in the Senate voting.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who serves with Anderson on the Finance Committee, said the deductibles undoubtedly will get a close look when the group starts closed sessions on the bill.

The committee is scheduled to complete its public hearings on the legislation on Wednesday and to begin drafting its version about May 25.

Witnesses for labor and welfare groups told the committee the deductibles will work a

Bridge-Bombin Strategy Eyed

U.S. Knocks Out Single Spans Only

WASHINGTON (AP) — On orders from the Pentagon, U.S. bombers have been knocking out single bridge spans — rather than entire bridges — wherever possible in Communist North Viet Nam.

Military officials said this almost surgical precision has accomplished the purpose of disabling the bridges and interrupting traffic across them. At the same time, it has demonstrated to the Communists that the United States can exercise restraint.

Bombing of North Viet Nam, which began Feb. 7, has been in suspension for several days. If and when it is resumed, it is expected that the single-span attack technique will be continued.

Some time ago, it was learned, directives from the Pentagon to U.S. forces operating against North Viet Nam stipulated, among other things, that the operational objective would be one span of a bridge.

Informed sources suggested there was more than a purely military reason behind this instruction — that it fits in with the national policy of strictly controlled punishment designed to prod North Viet Nam into negotiating a settlement of the South Viet Nam war.

The pattern came to light last week when newsmen were questioning Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an Air Force fighter-bomber squadron commander who has led 30 missions against North Viet Nam.

A reporter noted that a display of pictures of knocked out bridges showed only one span down in almost every instance. Was that by design? Risner was asked.

"Yes," the veteran pilot replied. "We only go for one span, because if one span is knocked out the bridge is out of operation."

Risner added: "Our target intelligence people feel that this is all that is required and there was no reason to devote more of our effort to completely destroy it."

Highway Patrolman Awarded Citation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Superintendent's Citation of Merit has been presented to state highway patrolman Pearl S. Sparrow for his capture of a deranged gunman who escaped from the Columbus State Hospital last month.

Sparrow, 32, of the London post, was given the award Sunday by Patrol Supt. Anson B. Cook. Cook said Sparrow captured the 19-year-old gunman on foot after the fugitive abandoned a stolen car off U. S. 40 and fired a shotgun into the air in a bid to hold off the officer.

Presbyterians Study Changes In Doctrines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Policymakers of the nation's highest Presbyterian body begin consideration this week of major changes in a doctrine its members have used for more than 250 years.

The changes: —Salvation takes place by divine love, not predestination. —The bible does not have to be interpreted literally.

In essence, the proposals are a continuation in a century-old struggle between the church's fundamentalists and progressives. If adopted, the modifications would reach deeper into American Presbyterianism than any changes since the church's founding in 1706.

Churchmen on both sides of the question say the changes will be the major issue when the 177th General Assembly of the three-million-member United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (northern) convenes here Thursday.

A sharp controversy is already shaping up. More than 2,000 of the denomination's leaders, including 935 voting delegates, from across the nation will weigh these and other church matters in a week-long conference.

Other issues to be considered are a position paper on racism and reports on ecumenical relations with Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox churches.

The speakers include Dr. Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, and former baseball star Jackie Robinson, president of the United Church Men of the National Council of Churches.

Mrs. Martin Luther King, wife of the civil rights leader, will give a voice concert at pre-session meetings.

The changes in the denomination's teachings will be proposed to the assembly by a 14-member committee which has been studying them for seven years. The committee recommends supplanting the 10,000-word Westminster Confession of 1647 with a new constitutional document. The changes would be effective in 1967, if approved. Proponents of revision say doctrines of predestination and literal interpretation of the Scriptures have limited the church's ability to speak to the modern world.

Dr. Eugene Carson Lake, the denomination's stated clerk and highest executive officer, who favors the changes, says adoption will "reduce the church's dependence on the Anglo-Saxon culture and on 17th Century thought."

But the Rev. Dr. G. Aiken Taylor, editor of the Southern Presbyterian Journal, says changing the Westminster Confession is "like taking the Supreme Court decisions of the last decade and saying this equals the U.S. Constitution." Prior to the meeting of the General Assembly, conferences will be held Tuesday and Wednesday on evangelism and stewardship.

The first business to be transacted by the assembly, however, will be election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Dr. Elder G. Hawkins of New York City, the church's first Negro moderator.

Candidates for the one-year term are the Rev. W. Sherman Skinner of St. Louis, Mo., Wil-

4 Concrete Stubs Mark Trinity Site, Where First Atomic Bomb Was Fired

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — At a lonely spot 35 miles out in the desert from here the atom's fury was unleashed almost 20 years ago — in a blaze of light that could have been seen from another planet.

There's little left to mark the atom's terror. There is nothing at all to mark the atom's peace-time achievements, or tell of its bright promise.

Four stubs of concrete stand like gravestones in the desert sand. They held the 100-foot tower for the Trinity shot, the world's first atom bomb explosion. The steel tower evaporated in the blast.

The stubs rise from a barren region which early New Mexicans called the desert of Jornada del Muerto — the Journey of Death — long before the age of the atom. These macabre monuments — mere dots against the surrounding peaks of the Sierra Oscura range — are the only real testimony to the blast which:

—Opened the way to a quick ending of World War II in the thunder and rubble of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

—Made the surrounding mountains tremble, lit up the sky as far away as Amarillo, Texas, 450 miles distant, and rattled windows in Gallup, N.M., 240 miles away.

—Showed that man had the power — for good or evil — to unleash, within a millionth of a second, temperatures close to 100 million degrees and electrical energy vastly exceeding the electric power produced by the whole world.

All the rest of the clearly evident markers at the heart of the bomb test site are artificial.

In the 9-by-9-yards square marked by the "gravestones" is a wooden stake bearing a weather-beaten sign with the legend "Ground zero."

Nearby is a little platform where someone makes a speech every year on the Sunday nearest July 16. That's the only time when outsiders are admitted to the site. It now is the center of the Army's 4,000-square-mile White Sands Missile Range.

Spelled out on the sands, in weather-beaten, whitewashed rocks, is the legend "Trinity Site." It's a kind of advertising sign for military craft passing over the historic place. Around the site, in a circle half a mile in diameter is a high fence. On the padlocked gate a sign says "Trinity."

The fence encloses the area where the bomb's blast and heat literally caused the desert sand to boil, and dug a crater ranging to a depth of 10 feet at the center.

The sand was turned to a jade-green, glassy substance — highly radioactive and new to the earth — which was named "trinitite."

Scientists, protected inside a tank-like vehicle, rode in soon after the test to collect first samples of it with a claw-like scoop.

Fragments of trinitite — no longer radioactive — still can be picked up at the site.

On a recent visit, the escorts were Pfc. Charles Tonelli, 22, of El Cerrito, Cal., of Army headquarters at White Sands, and Sgt. Bill Wray of Leaksville, N.C., a military policeman from the Army's "Stallion" site at one boundary of the range.

Tonelli was only an infant when the test bomb went off.

Wray, a veteran of the European war, was headed for further action in the Pacific theater on the day of the test.

"We never shipped out of Frisco after they dropped the bomb on Hiroshima," Wray said. It seemed clear he thought the Trinity test was a good break for him.

When the bomb exploded two decades ago, it killed rattlesnakes, rabbits and rats in a wide area. Even ants vanished temporarily from the area.

The site is 200 miles from Los Alamos where the test bomb — and those dropped on Japan — were developed. It's 125 miles southeast of Albuquerque. To reach it from Albuquerque you drive through desert country broken at intervals by Indian villages and old Spanish towns.

On the mountains surrounding Trinity Site, radio and radar antennas reflect the sunlight. They are used to track modern-day missiles hitting the desert from launching points as far away as Utah and Arizona.

These instruments were not on the peaks when the world's first mushroom cloud rose to a height of 41,000 feet — a couple of miles higher than Mt. Everest.

On the desert near the fence, and surrounded by fences of their own, are three huge earth mounds. Beneath each is a concrete dugout which housed instruments the day of the big bang.

All the instruments were destroyed by the detonation almost a quarter of a mile away. But the scientists had expected that. They placed the instruments in the unmanned bunkers only to determine what went wrong if the bomb had turned out to be a dud.

Gone are all vestiges of the slit-trenches in which some of America's top scientists lay at shottime, their feet toward the blast.

At the six-mile point — a key monument still stands. It is the earth-covered, concrete bunker in which the switch was thrown for the mighty blast.

Dukes To Form Trade Union?

British Eyebrows Rise at Prospect

LONDON (AP) — Dukes in a trade union? Gad, sir, what a suggestion.

But it was put forward in all seriousness.

At a conference of the owners of Britain's stately homes — who charge admission to see the historic buildings and their contents — Maj. J. R. More-Molyneux suggested the owners form themselves into a trade union.

The major owns historic Loseley Park, near Guildford.

At the conference last week, called by the British Travel Association, about 50 owners listened to the suggestion but took no immediate action.

Present at the conference were three dukes, three marquesses, a trio of earls, a pair of viscounts, four barons and a Labor party member of the House of Commons, Tom Driberg.

Driberg joined in the attack on shoddy souvenirs sold at some of the stately homes, saying some were "absolute trash."

The Duke of Bedford, whose Woburn Abbey attracts thousands of paying sightseers annually, retorted:

"I quite agree that the majority of souvenirs are deplorable, but so is the taste of the people."

With a happy note in his voice, he added: "We sell about 7,000 plaster stag heads every year."

The Duke of Atholl, whose Blair Castle is another mecca for tourists, complained that bus drivers who pilot tourists to his place expect kickbacks. Lord Geddes, chairman of the travel association, gave the owners a pep talk, telling them they were an important part of Britain's economy.

Britain has 580 historic houses which charge admission, and many sell souvenirs.

Scientists, protected inside a tank-like vehicle, rode in soon after the test to collect first samples of it with a claw-like scoop.

Fragments of trinitite — no longer radioactive — still can be picked up at the site.

On a recent visit, the escorts were Pfc. Charles Tonelli, 22, of El Centro, Cal., of Army headquarters at White Sands, and Sgt. Bill Wray of Las Vegas, N.C., a military policeman from the Army's "Stallion" site at one boundary of the range.

Tonelli was only an infant when the test bomb went off.

Wray, a veteran of the European war, was headed for further action in the Pacific theater on the day of the test.

"We never shipped out of Frisco after they dropped the bomb on Hiroshima," Wray said. It seemed clear he thought the Trinity test was a good break for him.

When the bomb exploded two decades ago, it killed rattlesnakes, rabbits and rats in a wide area. Even ants vanished temporarily from the area.

The site is 200 miles from Los Alamos where the test bomb — and those dropped on Japan — were developed. It's 125 miles southeast of Albuquerque. To reach it from Albuquerque you drive through desert country broken at intervals by Indian villages and old Spanish towns.

On the mountains surrounding Trinity Site, radio and radar antennas reflect the sunlight. They are used to track modern-day missiles hitting the desert from launching points as far away as Utah and Arizona.

These instruments were not on the peaks when the world's first mushroom cloud rose to a height of 41,000 feet — a couple of miles higher than Mt. Everest.

On the desert near the fence, and surrounded by fences of their own, are three huge earth mounds. Beneath each is a concrete dugout which housed instruments the day of the big bang.

All the instruments were destroyed by the detonation almost a quarter of a mile away, but the scientists had expected that. They placed the instruments in the unmanned bunkers only to determine what went wrong if the bomb had turned out to be a dud.

Gone are all vestiges of the slit-trenches in which some of America's top scientists lay at shottime, their feet toward the blast.

At the six-mile point — a key monument still stands. It is the earth-covered, concrete bunker in which the switch was thrown for the mighty blast.

Dukes To Form Trade Union?

British Eyebrows Rise at Prospect

LONDON (AP) — Dukes in a trade union? Gad, sir, what a suggestion.

But it was put forward in all seriousness.

At a conference of the owners of Britain's stately homes — who charge admission to see the historic buildings and their contents — Maj. J. R. More-Molyneux suggested the owners form themselves into a trade union.

The major owns historic Loseley Park, near Guildford.

At the conference last week, called by the British Travel Association, about 50 owners listened to the suggestion but took no immediate action.

Present at the conference were three dukes, three marquesses, a trio of earls, a pair of viscounts, four barons and a Labor party member of the House of Commons, Tom Driberg.

Driberg joined in the attack on shoddy souvenirs sold at some of the stately homes, saying some were "absolute trash."

The Duke of Bedford, whose Woburn Abbey attracts thousands of paying sightseers annually, retorted:

"I quite agree that the majority of souvenirs are deplorable, but so is the taste of the people."

With a happy note in his voice, he added:

"We sell about 7,000 plaster stag heads every year."

The Duke of Atholl, whose Blair Castle is another mecca for tourists, complained that bus drivers who pilot tourists to his place expect kickbacks.

Lord Geddes, chairman of the travel association, gave the owners a pep talk, telling them they were an important part of Britain's economy.

Britain has 580 historic houses which charge admission, and many sell souvenirs.

By Miss Margaret Thomas

Mrs. James B. Leist, who now lives in St. Petersburg Beach, Florida, came by plane to spend Mother's Day with her sons, Jim and Tom and their families, at Dayton. This past week she spent in Kingston with her mother, Mrs. Willard Yaple.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland spent Mother's Day with their daughter, Mrs. Don True-man and family at Dayton.

The following members of the local Woman's Society of Christian Service attended the Officers' School of Instruction held at the Methodist Church in Circleville, May 12: Mrs. Herbert Lemley, Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, Mrs. Pearl Patrick, Mrs. W. W. King, Mrs. Wm. Meadows, Mrs. E. W. Freshour, and Mrs. Paul Hankins.

Mrs. Chauncey Butler is receiving treatment in Grant Hospital.

The WSCS and Thoburn Circle will have a joint meeting at the Methodist Church Thursday, May 20, with a casserole dinner at 6:30. During the meeting, both groups will hold initiation ceremonies for new officers.

Kingston has lost another of her older citizens, Mrs. Carrie Holderman, who was 93 last December. She will be missed in so many ways, although she had been confined to her chair for several years. Relatives who came here to attend her funeral are: Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Harman, Everett Penn.; The Rev. and Mrs. John P. Harman and daughter, Laura, Columbus and Mrs. John H. Ellis, Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellis of Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Beulah Crawford and Mrs. Carroll Minor took their mother, Mrs. Josephine Fox, to Columbus Tuesday afternoon to attend the party which Lazarus gives for their friends in and

Civil Rights Leader's Home Is Ransacked

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vandals ransacked the home of the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Negro civil rights leader, Sunday and stole 400 five-cent postage stamps and some change.

Police said clothes were thrown about as the house was ransacked from the basement to a third floor bedroom. Shuttlesworth has served as an aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King in the civil rights movement.

City Hall Key Found In Suspect's Pocket

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Police were startled when they found the key to the front door of the new City Hall and police station—in the pocket of a man picked up for questioning in a series of home break-ins.

The building is so new that even the police don't have their keys yet. Officials have not yet moved in.

The man who was arrested Sunday told police he had worked for a contractor who helped work on the City Hall.

near Columbus, who are 80 years of age and older. This is the 40th year that Lazarus has honored these older citizens with a wonderful program and refreshments.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bond on Sunday were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Beavers and daughter, Judy, from Chillicothe, and their grandson, Robert Beavers and children, Debbie, Bobby, Denise and Kevin, from Columbus.

The Speech Class of Kingston High School will present culminating speeches of the year on May 17 through 20. All friends of the classes are invited to the school auditorium at 10:15 a. m. on those dates.

The Sixth Grade will take a conservation tour to Pike County, May 18. Also on that date will be held the Athletic Boosters' Spring Banquet to honor members of volleyball, baseball and track squads. Plan to attend at 6:30 p. m.

May 21—There will be an Awards Day Assembly at 2:45 p. m. All attendance classroom awards etc. will be presented. The public is invited.

May 27—the last day of school. School will be dismissed at 2 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ours and children from Xenia spent Sunday with their parent, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ours.

At the regular meeting of Kingston Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, held in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday evening, initiatory work was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. William Meadows, worthy matron, and George Grimes, worthy patron. During the intermission, Mrs. Leslie Dearth presented a piano solo, "Let the Rest of the World Go By". Mrs. Meadows read, "A Tribute to Mother's Day".

The amendment drawn up by a committee composed of Mrs. Meadows, Mrs. Dearth, Mrs. Frank Graves, Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, Mrs. W. S. Rhoades, and Mrs. Curtis Pyle was read by Mrs. Meadows.

At the next meeting June 8, the Masons will be honored. Refreshments were served by the officers.

Miss Ruth Ann Brooks spent Mother's Day here with her mother, Mrs. Irene Brooks and brother, Bob.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Siberell on Sunday were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Conaway and son, Mike.

Mrs. W. S. Rhoades received a telephone call on Mother's Day from her daughter, Mrs. David Sheldon who lives in Pasadena, Calif.

Ohio Poll Law Improvements Are Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bills designed to improve Ohio's election procedures by saving time and money are up for votes tonight in the Ohio House.

Four election measures will be considered, including a proposal allowing polling places to record absentee and disabled voter ballots on machines to save tabulating expenses.

Others would provide for signs clearly designating polling places—in addition to American flags—reduce from two to one cards an elector must sign, and permit election boards to decide by majority vote, instead of unanimously, whether as many as 50 lists of registered voters will be printed for limited distribution.

Minor measures are on tonight's Senate calendar as the lawmakers return from week-end recess to begin their 18th week of work. The upper chamber will consider proposals allowing Allen County commissioners to establish roads through the Ohio State University branch campus in Lima and to adopt "Ohio Flint" as the state's official gem stone.

Reapportionment continues as the major obstacle to adjournment of the legislative session although the GOP administration's appropriations bills still must clear the evenly divided Senate.

Hearings are scheduled to begin Wednesday before the Senate Elections and Civil Service Committee on four upper chamber proposals to shape new Ohio House districts.

Several plans are pending in the House, and Republicans in that chamber reportedly are working on another to replace the GOP proposal rejected by voters in the May 4 primary.

The new plan calls for creation of about 174 House districts throughout the state, with one House member to be elected from each. It would boost membership in the lower chamber from the present 137 to 174.

Action is expected in the House Tuesday on the administration's $190 million capital improvements bill, with approval expected. That would send to the Senate the third of four appropriations measures. The final one is a $507,000 sundry claims bill introduced in the House last week.

The Senate Finance Committee is considering House approved bills to appropriate $1.4 billion for general operations and $888 million for the Highway and Highway Safety Departments.

Ordinary wind-measuring devices are smashed by tornado winds moving 400 or more miles an hour. But a new type of radar called the Doppler system will soon enable research scientists to measure for the first time the fantastic speed of particles caught up in the funnels of the storms.

The World Today

By NEIL GILBRIDE
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's hands-off policy toward big labor disputes faces a severe test this summer in two critical industries—steel and aerospace.

A strike in either industry would be a severe blow to Johnson's domestic, defense and space programs, and early trouble signs indicate tough sledding in both sets of negotiations.

The double-barreled crisis—if it crystallizes—will come at the height of the summer heat in August and could melt the White House resolve to let labor and management work out their own problems.

The steel industry is already balking at a pointed White House hint that it can afford to raise wages 3 per cent without a price hike.

In aerospace, militant union spokesmen predict a crisis if their demands for a union shop—plus a big wage hike—aren't met.

The steel talks—resuming May 18 after a May 1 strike deadline was narrowly averted—cover more than 400,000 members of the United Steel workers Union, AFL-CIO.

Talks in the aerospace industry involve some 150,000 members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The earliest new steel strike deadline is Sept. 1, with Aug. 1 the date for serving notice to the 10 major firms involved.

Aerospace contracts with Douglas, Lockheed, Boeing and North American expire at various dates from July to September but auto workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock views August as the critical month.

Steel and aerospace union leaders complain recent contracts have not kept pace with White House guidelines, which judge noninflationary wage hikes on the basis of man-hour productivity increases. For industry as a whole, the figure suggested by the President's Council of Economic Advisers is 3.2 per cent.

In a special report on steel, the council suggested 3 per cent as the guidelines.

This nettled steel industry officials, who contend it gave union negotiators extra ammunition to carry back to the bargaining table. But the Steelworkers Union says the guideline figure is too low—it wants 17 or 18 cents an hour. Wages and fringe benefits now average $4.40 an hour.

The auto workers say aerospace production and maintenance workers at $2.95 an hour lag behind average wages of $3.07 in the auto industry. The machinists have already laid down a demand for 57 cents an hour spread over three years.

But it is the demand for union security that is expected to trigger the most trouble in aerospace.

Some of the aerospace firms have "strange ideological fixations" against the union shop, says Woodcock.

The union shop would require all workers covered by the contracts to join the union.

The auto workers are willing to settle for the agency shop, under which every nonmember would have to pay the equivalent of union dues but would not have to join the union.

Congressional hearings scheduled soon on the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states to outlaw the union shop, will doubtless heighten the tension in the aerospace talks.

In both steel and aerospace, any strike would shut down the entire industry—not just a few firms.

If this happens, President Johnson might claim the national interest is being injured and he could step in to halt the strike.

FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS—Mrs. Mary Guess puffs on her rhinestone-studded pipe, reserved for special occasions, as she observes her 108th birthday in a Chicago nursing home. Ordinarily she smokes a corncob pipe. She was born in Yazoo City, Miss., in 1857. "I live right and I love everybody," she philosophized. Birthday messages came from President Johnson, Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

COLLIE LEROY WILKINS JR. sits in a car outside Lewndes County Courthouse, Hayneville, Ala., during deliberations of the jury deciding his fate in the killing of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo during the big Selma civil rights march.

Kingston has lost another of her older citizens, Mrs. Carrie Holderman, who was 93 last December. She will be missed in so many ways, although she had been confined to her chair for several years. Relatives who came here to attend her funeral are: Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Harman, Everett Penn.; The Rev. and Mrs. John P. Harman and daughter, Laura, Columbus and Mrs. John H. Ellis, Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellis of Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Beulah Crawford and Mrs. Carroll Minor took their mother, Mrs. Josephine Fox, to Columbus Tuesday afternoon to attend the party which Lazarus gives for their friends in and

Civil Rights Leader's Home Is Ransacked

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vandalism ransacked the home of the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Negro civil rights leader, Sunday and stole 400 five-cent postage stamps and some change.

Police said clothes were trashed about as the house was ransacked from the basement to a third floor bedroom. Shuttlesworth has served as an aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King in the civil rights movement.

City Hall Key Found In Suspect's Pocket

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Police were startled when they found the key to the front door of the new City Hall and police station—in the pocket of a man picked up for questioning in a series of home break-ins.

The building is so new that even the police don't have their keys yet. Officials have not yet moved in.

The man who was arrested Sunday told police he had worked for a contractor who helped work on the City Hall.

near Columbus, who are 80 years of age and older. This is the 40th year that Lazarus has honored these older citizens with a wonderful program and refreshments.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bond on Sunday were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Beavers and daughter, Judy, from Chillicothe, and their grandson, Robert Beavers and children, Debbie, Bobby, Denise and Kevin, from Columbus.

Mrs. W. S. Rhoades received a telephone call on Mother's Day from her daughter, Mrs. David Sheldon who lives in Pasadena, Calif.

Ohio Poll Law Improvements Are Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bills designed to improve Ohio's election procedures by saving time and money are up for votes tonight in the Ohio House.

Four election measures will be considered, including a proposal allowing polling places to record absentee and disabled voter ballots on machines to save tabulating expenses.

Others would provide for signs clearly designating polling places—in addition to American flags—reduce from two to one cards an elector must sign, and permit election boards to decide by majority vote, instead of unanimously, whether as many as 50 lists of registered voters will be printed for limited distribution.

Minor measures are on tonight's Senate calendar as the lawmakers return from week-end recess to begin their 18th week of work. The upper chamber will consider proposals allowing Allen County commissioners to establish roads through the Ohio State University branch campus in Lima and to adopt "Ohio Flint" as the state's official gem stone.

Reapportionment continues as the major obstacle to adjournment of the legislative session although the GOP administration's appropriations bills still must clear the evenly divided Senate.

Hearings are scheduled to begin Wednesday before the Senate Elections and Civil Service Committee on four upper chamber proposals to shape new Ohio House districts.

Several plans are pending in the House, and Republicans in that chamber reportedly are working on another to replace the GOP proposal rejected by voters in the May 4 primary.

The new plan calls for creation of about 174 House districts throughout the state, with one House member to be elected from each. It would boost membership in the lower chamber from the present 137 to 174.

Action is expected in the House Tuesday on the administration's $190 million capital improvements bill, with approval expected. That would send to the Senate the third of four appropriations measures. The final one is a $507,000 sundry claims bill introduced in the House last week.

The Senate Finance Committee is considering House approved bills to appropriate $1.4 billion for general operations and $888 million for the Highway and Highway Safety Departments.

The World Today

By NEIL GILBRIDE
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's hands-off policy toward big labor disputes faces a severe test this summer in two critical industries — steel and aerospace.

A strike in either industry would be a severe blow to Johnson's domestic, defense and space programs, and early trouble signs indicate tough sledding in both sets of negotiations.

The double-barreled crisis — if it crystallizes — will come at the height of the summer heat in August and could melt the White House resolve to let labor and management work out their own problems.

The steel industry is already balking at a pointed White House hint that it can afford to raise wages 3 per cent without a price hike.

In aerospace, militant union spokesmen predict a crisis if their demands for a union shop — plus a big wage hike — aren't met.

The steel talks — resuming May 18 after a May 1 strike deadline was narrowly averted — cover more than 400,000 members of the United Steel workers Union, AFL-CIO.

Talks in the aerospace industry involve some 150,000 members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The earliest new steel strike deadline is Sept. 1, with Aug. 1 the date for serving notice to the 10 major firms involved.

Aerospace contracts with Douglas, Lockheed, Boeing and North American expire at various dates from July to September but auto workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock views August as the critical month.

Steel and aerospace union leaders complain recent contracts have not kept pace with White House guidelines, which judge noninflationary wage hikes on the basis of man-hour productivity increases. For industry as a whole, the figure suggested by the President's Council of Economic Advisers is 3.2 per cent.

In a special report on steel, the council suggested 3 per cent as the guidelines.

This period steel industry officials, who contend it gave union negotiators extra ammunition to carry back to the bargaining table. But the Steelworkers Union says the guideline figure is too low—it wants 17 or 18 cents an hour. Wages and fringe benefits now average $4.40 an hour.

The auto workers say aerospace production and maintenance workers at $2.95 an hour lag behind average wages of $3.07 in the auto industry. The machinists have already laid down a demand for 57 cents an hour spread over three years.

But it is the demand for union security that is expected to trigger the most trouble in aerospace.

Some of the aerospace firms have "strange ideological fixations" against the union shop, says Woodcock.

The union shop would require all workers covered by the contracts to join the union.

The auto workers are willing to settle for the agency shop, under which every nonmember would have to pay the equivalent of union dues but would not have to join the union.

Congressional hearings scheduled soon on the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states to outlaw the union shop, will doubtless heighten the tension in the aerospace talks.

In both steel and aerospace, any strike would shut down the entire industry — not just a few firms.

If this happens, President Johnson might claim the national interest is being injured and he could step in to halt the strike.

New Kansas City Boss Off To Fast Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Haywood Sullivan can win a few more games, he might find himself riding around in a green and gold air-conditioned trailer with piped-in music for his listening pleasure.

The new manager of the Kansas City Athletics took a giant step toward taking over Charley the Mule's trailer as well as the animal's place in Charley Finley's heart by halting a seven-game losing streak Sunday with a doubleheader sweep over Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings and 4-2.

Sullivan, a former catcher with Boston and Kansas City who had been managing at Vancouver, got the call from owner Finley during the weekend and replaced Mal McGaha. He became Finley's fifth manager in five years and the youngest in the majors at 34.

He went to work immediately and found a willing ally in Rene Lachemann, a former Dodger bat boy. Lachemann was sent up as a pinch hitter in the opener and produced the tying run with a ninth-inning single, then was inserted into the line-up in the nightcap and responded with two singles and a homer.

A couple of more moves like that and the Mule may get his eviction papers.

Meanwhile, the American League-leading Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels 6-2 and 5-4, Boston downed Detroit 5-0 and 4-3, Washington edged Cleveland 8-7 in 11 innings before the Indians won 7-3 and Baltimore defeated the New York Yankees 7-5 in the only single game scheduled.

In the National League, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and 5-1, San Francisco took Houston 10-4 and 4-3, the New York Mets drubbed Cincinnati 6-2 and 8-5, the Chicago Cubs defeated Los Angeles 5-3 in 10 innings before the Dodgers won 7-3 and Milwaukee outlasted Philadelphia in an 8-6, 10-inning slugfest.

After Lachemann drove in the tying run in the opener for the A's, Ed Charles won it in the 10th with a three-run homer following singles by John Blanchard and Dick Green. Green hit two homers and Gentile one for Kansas City while Jimmie Hall and Tony Oliva connected for the Twins.

Pete Ward and Moose Skowron supplied the major fireworks for the White Sox in the opener, Ward doubling home two runs in the first inning and Skowron slapping a two-run single in the third before hitting a homer in the seventh.

In the nightcap, Bobby Knopp's second error, in the seventh inning, paved the way for three unearned runs and he White Sox' seventh consecutive victory. Danny Cater scored when second - baseman Knopp bobbled Skowron's grounder and Ron Hansen capped the uprising with a two-run triple.

Earl Wilson got the job done for the Red Sox in the opener by limiting the Tigers to four hits while Lee Thomas drove in three runs with a single and a double.

Carl Yastrzemski and Tony Conigliaro powered the Red Sox to their second - game victory with consecutive third - inning homers that built their lead to 4-0. It was Yastrzemski's seventh and Conigliaro's eighth.

Ken McMullen doubled and scored on Jim King's single to give the Senators a 7-7 tie in the ninth inning, then won it in the 10th with a homer off Dick Donovan.

The Indians came back to grab the second game with Fred Whitfield hitting a pinch-hit grand-slam homer and Joe Azcue connecting for a two-run shot. Luis Tiant got the victory with a six-hitter.

Luis Aparicio's two-run homer in the sixth inning capped a four-homer salvo that powered the Orioles over the Yankees. Aparicio's homer, only his second, put Baltimore ahead 6-5. Curt Blefary, Norm Siebern and pitcher Jim Palmer also homered.

Thoroughbred Trustees Renamed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All five members of the Ohio Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association Board of Trustees whose terms expire May 31 were elected to new three-year tenures Sunday.

The five are: John J. Osterman Jr., Grove City; Beale Fry, Grove City; L. J. Bennett, Columbus; Frank Brendel, North Canton, and Robert Dreidame, Cincinnati.

Reelected to serve one-year terms were J. Berkley Roach, London, president, and Fry, vice president. Likewise renamed for one year were Brendel, vice president of the Northern Area, and George T. Harris, Cincinnati, Southern Area vice president.

Indians Win 5 of 11 Tilts On Road Trip

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' first eastern road trip was marked by some spectacular ups and downs, and the Tribe came through with five victories against six defeats.

Indian bats blazed for seven runs in each of the last three weekend games at Washington, but the pitching broke down—except for one strong performance by Luis Tiant.

Tiant pitched a fine six-hitter in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Fred Whitfield hit a grand slam home run, easing the pain of seeing the first game slip away after it had been all but won.

The Indians won 7-3 after losing 8-7.

Ralph Terry, whose usually fine control was missing, was chased in the seventh inning of the first game, with twin singles and Frank Howard's home run scored three runs, giving the Senators a 6-2 lead.

Then the Indians came up with five runs on five singles to go ahead 7-6 in the top of the ninth. Whitfield hit a pinch single, and Rocky Colavito, Larry Brown, Vic Davalillo and Chuck Hinton came up with hits to keep the rally going.

But relief hurler Gary Bell couldn't hold the Senators, and they tied it up in the ninth on Ken McMullen's double and Jim King's single.

Then McMullen rapped a home run off Dick Donovan, who faced only two batters, to give Washington an eleventh inning victory.

Sprints Help To Set High School Mark

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Olympian Jim Ryun of Wichita East High School attributes his amazing 3:58.3 mile — first sub-four-minute mile ever run in high school competition — to his extra work in the sprint.

In any race a mile or less it's a matter of speed," said the 18-year-old, dark-haired lad. "I didn't start bringing my mile times down until I started working harder on the sprints."

"This time, I knew it was my last high school race and I wanted to make it good."

That amounts to a major speech for the modest Ryun. He is looking forward to four big West Coast meets, starting with the Modesto, Calif., Relays May 28.

But he won't speculate on his chances against great veteran milers such as Dwylo Burleson, Jim Grelle, Tom O'Hara and Peter Snell of New Zealand, the world record holder at 3:54.1.

Ryun's 3:58.3 at the Kansas State meet Saturday is a tremendous accomplishment because he did it with no pressing him the last half mile.

His coach, J. D. Edmiston, timed his last quarter in 55.7 seconds. The crowd of 7,000 urged him on all the way.

Ryun's time is better than the NCAA meet record of 3:59.8 by Burleson and compares to the American record of 3:55.5 by Jim Beatty, and the collegiate mark of 3:56.9 by O'Hara.

Reliever Loses On Single Pitch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Syracuse relief pitcher Johnny Seale threw one pitch—and suffered his first loss of the season.

Seale relieved Glen Hobbie with one man on base and Toronto trailing by one run. One pitch later, the Maple Leaf had their sixth consecutive International League victory, 6-5, on pinch hitter John Gibson's home run.

Elsewhere, Jacksonville stopped an Atlanta winning streak at six games by defeating the league leaders 9-2 in the first of two games, but the Crackers nipped the Suns 3-2 in the second game; Buffalo and Rochester split with the Bisons winning the first game 11-7 and the Wings taking the second 4-3, and Columbus defeated Toledo 5-3 in a rain - shortened game.

Santa Anita Derby winners, Hill Gail (1952) Determine (1954) and Swaps (1955) went on to win the Kentucky Derby.

Mayer Wins At New Orleans

1957 Golf King Stages Comeback

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dick Mayer, who dropped out of sight just months after he became king of golf in 1957, will tell you that it's sometimes a little heartbreaking for a former champion to attempt a comeback.

But the 42-year-old Mayer, who came from the same era of golf that produced such greats as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson, struck a blow for old age and sentiment Sunday when he chipped in from at least 90 feet out on the 18th hole to win the $100,000 New Orleans Open. He shot a 68 in the final round for a 273 total.

Bruce Devlin and Billy Martindale finished in a tie for second with 274s and pocketed $9,400 each. Both finished with 70s.

Jack Nicklaus, the favorite here, finished Sunday's round with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 275. This left him tied with Jack Cupit and George Knudson for fourth place, which was worth $4,500 to each. Arnold Palmer was well down the list, with a 284 total worth $258.

Mayer, a native of New England who now makes his home at Palm Desert, Calif., was at his prime in 1957. He won the U. S. Open, the $100,000 World Championship of Golf, was named Golfer of the Year and led the nation's money winners with $65,835.

Then, beset by personal problems, Mayer made the short trip to oblivion. By 1960 his name was forgotten.

Mayer played a tournament now and then just to maintain contact with the game, but made his living as a stockbroker, selling insurance, working at his father's automobile agency and ranching.

"I just don't know whether I wanted to go in in 1957," he said. "I had lost all my confidence and really didn't think I wanted to play. I guess you can just say I gave up."

The New Orleans Open was Mayer's sixth tournament of the year and the only one in which he finished high enough in the standings to make expenses. First prize was worth $20,000.

Welter Champ Retains Title

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Carlos Hernandez, the world junior welterweight champion, stopped Colombian challenger Mario Rossito after four rounds in their championship bout Sunday night.

Hernandez, who weighed 134½ to Rossito's 137½, scored heavily to the challenger's head and cut his left eyebrow in the fourth round. Rossito's seconds worked feverishly over him between rounds but the Colombian was unable to answer the bell for the fifth.

The Venezuelan champ won his 36th fight in 39 starts. For Rossito, it was his seventh loss in 54 fights.

Wood Wins Low Hurdles, Sets District Record

Circleville's Jim Wood set a blistering pace in the 180-yard low hurdles Saturday night at Worthington as he blazed to a win in 19.4 in the event. He established a new district mark and earned a berth in the regional meet.

The regionals will be held Saturday at Worthington with preliminary events beginning at 9 a. m. The finals in the running events are set for 2:30 p. m.

Logan Elm Splits Two With Kingston

The Logan Elm Braves split a twin bill with visiting Kingston Saturday, losing the first game, 7-2, and winning the second, 17-12.

In the first game, Kingston led off with two runs in the first inning, scored one in the fourth, three in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Logan Elm was limited to four hits by D. Crawford, Kingston hurler, and scored single runs in the third and fourth innings. One of the Logan Elm runs came on a four sacker by Darryl Reichelderfer.

Jeff Lutz was charged with the loss. He went the route on the mound, fanning 15, walking five and giving up 10 hits.

CRAWFORD aided his own cause by blasting a home run and a single, driving in two runs in the game.

The second game turned into a real slugfest with the Braves cracking three homers, two doubles and a triple.

Russ Merrin had the three sacker and one of the circuit clouts. Reichelderfer blasted a homerun as did Dale Jenne. The doubles were hit by Danny Dahl and Mike Spangler.

Merrin started on the mound for the Braves, going the first four innings and allowing 10 of the 12 runs Kingston scored.

Spangler worked the final three innings.

For Kingston, Bennett started, was relieved by Miller in the fourth and then returned to the mound. Crawford, who won the first game, came on at the end of five to finish the second.

Crawford hit two home runs and had 5 RBIs in the second tilt.

Rooney Aces 8th Hole at Lansdowne

Pat Rooney, playing at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links Saturday, scored the first hole in one of his life.

It was not only Rooney's first ace, but the first at the county's newest golf links. The Don Collins owned nine-hole course in Walnut Twp. has been in operation for one year.

Rooney recorded his blow on the eighth hole, teeing off from the 218 - yard mark. His feat was witnessed by Dave Hannans and Tom Bivens, with whom he was playing at the time.

3 Entries Bruised During Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Injuries, which have plagued thoroughbred racing's 3-year-old division all year, struck again in the Preakness as Tom Rolfe won the $180,600 race Saturday with a neck decision over Dapper Dan.

Lucky Debonair, a fading seventh in the 1 3/16-mile race after winning the Kentucky Derby, and Native Charger, fourth in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, went on the hospital list for indefinite periods with leg injuries.

And even Tom Rolfe didn't escape unscathed as he survived a claim of foul while throwing back Dapper Dan's bid in the duel between two sons of the unbeaten Italian sire — Ribot.

Philadelphia hasn't had a 20-game winner since Robin Roberts compiled a 23-14 record in 1955. It was his sixth straight season of 20 victories or better.

Foyt Grabs Pole in '500'

Qualifier Sets 161 Mph. Mark

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A. J. Foyt owns all the records for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway from the 150-mile point to the finish. And he'll be in an ideal spot May 31 to pick up the other marks.

Foyt, 30, four-time national driving champion from Houston, Tex., won the 500 last year for the second time and set records all the way after taking charge at 150 miles. But the marks for the qualifications and the early part of the race eluded him.

He took care of qualifications Saturday by roaring four times around the 2½-mile track at an average of 161.233 miles per hour and hitting a hot lap at 161.958. He drove the No. 1 Sheraton-Thompson rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

As the fastest qualifier on the first trial day, Foyt will start the race in the pole position — inside spot in the front three-car rows of the 33-car field.

Nineteen cars qualified Saturday, at speeds from Foyt's record to 153.407 by Norm Hall of Hollywood, Calif. Two more qualified Sunday, filling a tentative line-up of seven rows for the race.

Twelve places at the rear of the field remain to be filled next weekend. After 12 cars have qualified, a car still may make the field with a higher speed than one or more of the earlier qualifiers. The slowest car then will be eliminated.

Only the 33 fastest cars will start the race.

Jim Clark, 29 former world champion of Duns, Scotland, ran four laps at 160.729 and one at 160.973.

Foyt, Clark and Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., all driving Lotus-Fords, will start in the front row.

Lowly Mets Dump Reds in Double Bill

CINCINNATI (AP) — The ninth - place New York Mets turned the tables on second-place Cincinnati, thumping the Reds 6-2 and 8-5 in a doubleheader Sunday in making a shambles of Dick Sisler's highly touted pitching staff.

"What is there to say outside of that I'll have to think of regrouping our pitching," said the Cincinnati manager after the double setback, which gave the Mets three of the four - game series in New York.

Just two weeks ago, the Reds swept a twin bill from Casey Stengel's crew, 9-4 and 10-8.

"I'm not ready to push the panic button yet," Sisler added. "It's too early for that. We're still doing all right in the standings."

In the first game, the Mets handed John Tsitouris his third defeat, and patted the first loss on Sammy Ellis in the nightcap. Tsitouris lasted less than three innings, and Ellis, winner of five, succeeding in retiring only two of the eight men he faced before he was yanked in the first inning.

Two Met veterans, meanwhile, succeeded in posting victories. Jack Fisher, with a ninth inning assist from reliever Dennis Ribant, got his third triumph in the first game. Warren Spahn, 44, hung on for seven innings in the nightcap — although he was in trouble in every frame—to get his third victory against three losses.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Philadelphia hasn't had a 20-game winner since Robin Roberts compiled a 23-14 record in 1955. It was his sixth straight season of 20 victories or better.

KRANPOOL, BATEMAN, SHUBODA-HUI?

THERE MAY BE A LOT OF COMPARATIVE STRANGERS AMONG THE SLUGGING LEADERS IN THE FIRST FEW WEEKS, BUT THERE WAS ONE FAMILIAR FACE UP THERE WHO'D NEVER DONE SO WELL SO EARLY IN HIS PREVIOUS 12 SEASONS.

ERNIE BANKS, CHICAGO CUBS 34-YEAR-OLD FIRST BASEMAN, STARTED OFF AS IF HE INTENDS TO IMPROVE ON THE COMEBACK HE MADE LAST YEAR. AFTER AVERAGING 40 HOMERS AND 112 RBIS FOR 6 SEASONS HE DROPPED TO 18 AND 64 IN 1963.

Hurricane Wins SCO Golf Title

Wilmington High School won the South Central Ohio League golf crown Saturday, pulling a mild upset over favored Washington C. H. on the Washington Country Club course.

The Hurricane golfers finished first with a 330. The Blue Lions were second with 338, Circleville had a team total of 339, Hillsboro was next with 359 and Miami Trace last with 375.

Individual medalist for the day was Phil Alkire, who equaled par with a 36 on the front nine and finished with a 38 for a 74 stroke total.

Tony Capuana, Washington Country Club pro, donated a trophy for the top medalist of the event.

CIRCLEVILLE held a 10 stroke lead at the end of the first nine. But the locals shot 13 strokes poorer on the -back nine, according to Bob Ransom, Tigergolf coach.

The Wilmington quartet of Bret Hutchins, Jeff Hopkins, Marv Smith and Lane improved by 10 strokes their first nine to take the honors.

Hutchins and Hopkins carded 79s, Smith and Lane 86s to present the Hurricane with a balanced attack.

For Circleville, Chuck Smith toured the front nine in 38 but shot up to a 42 on the second for an 80 total. Richard Fuhrman improved his front nine score of 42 by one on the back nine to finish with an 83 total.

Tim Adams shot 38 going out and 44 coming in for an 82 and Bill Weldon showed a 45-49-94 in the match.

Washington's second place golfers were paced by Alkire's 74. Steve Heath carded an 89 after taking a four stroke penalty for carrying too many clubs in his bag on the front nine. Steve Stuckert shot an 82 and Steve Thornhill a 93.

HILLSBORO'S best score was an 82 by Daryl Bearrares and Ned Fricce topped the Miami Trace foursome with a 91. Greenfield did not field a golf team in the event.

"We just didn't play as well as we were capable," Ransom said. "I feel we will be 15 or 20 strokes better in the District Friday."

Pairings for the district, which will be played on the Ohio State University Gray Course, will be held Thursday.

New Kansas City Boss Off To Fast Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Haywood Sullivan can win a few more games, he might find himself riding around in a green and gold air-conditioned trailer with piped-in music for his listening pleasure.

The new manager of the Kansas City Athletics took a giant step toward taking over Charley the Mule's trailer as well as the animal's place in Charley Finley's heart by halting a seven-game losing streak Sunday with a doubleheader sweep over Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings and 4-2.

Sullivan, a former catcher with Boston and Kansas City who had been managing at Vancouver, got the call from owner Finley during the weekend and replaced Mal McGaha. He became Finley's fifth manager in five years and the youngest in the majors at 34.

He went to work immediately and found a willing ally in Rene Lachemann, a former Dodger bat boy. Lachemann was sent up as a pinch hitter in the opener and produced the tying run with a ninth-inning single, then was inserted into the line-up in the nightcap and responded with two singles and a homer.

A couple of more moves like that and the Mule may get his eviction papers.

Meanwhile, the American League-leading Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels 6-2 and 5-4. Boston downed Detroit 5-0 and 4-3. Washington edged Cleveland 8-7 in 11 innings before the Indians won 7-3 and Baltimore defeated the New York Yankees 7-5 in the only single game scheduled.

In the National League, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and 5-1. San Francisco took Houston 10-4 and 4-3. The New York Mets drubbed Cincinnati 6-2 and 8-5. The Chicago Cubs defeated Los Angeles 5-3 in 10 innings before the Dodgers won 3-2 and Milwaukee outlasted Philadelphia in an 8-6, 10-inning slugfest.

After Lachemann drove in the tying run in the opener for the A's, Ed Charles won it in the 10th with a three-run homer following singles by John Blanchard and Dick Green. Green hit two homers and Gentle one for Kansas City while Jimmie Hall and Tony Oliva connected for the Twins.

Pete Ward and Moose Skowron supplied the major fireworks for the White Sox in the opener, Ward doubling home two runs in the first inning and Skowron slapping a two-run single in the third before hitting a homer in the seventh.

In the nightcap, Bobby Knopp's second error, in the seventh inning, paved the way for three unearned runs and he White Sox' seventh consecutive victory. Danny Cater scored when second - baseman Knopp bobbled Skowron's grounder and Ron Hansen capped the uprising with a two-run triple.

Earl Wilson got the job done for the Red Sox in the opener by limiting the Tigers to four hits while Lee Thomas drove in three runs with a single and a double.

Carl Yastrzemski and Tony Conigliaro powered the Red Sox to their second - game victory with consecutive third - inning homers that built their lead to 4-0. It was Yastrzemski's seventh and Conigliaro's eighth.

Ken McMullen doubled and scored on Jim King's single to give the Senators a 7-1 tie in the ninth inning, then won it in the 10th with a homer off Dick Donovan.

The Indians came back to grab the second game with Fred Whitfield hitting a pinch-hit grand-slam homer and Joe Azcue connecting for a two-run shot. Luis Tiant got the victory with a six-hitter.

Luis Aparicio's two-run homer in the sixth inning capped a four-homer salvo that powered the Orioles over the Yankees. Aparicio's homer, only his second, put Baltimore ahead 6-5. Curt Blefary, Norm Siebern and pitcher Jim Palmer also homered.

Thoroughbred Trustees Renamed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All five members of the Ohio Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association Board of Trustees whose terms expire May 31 were elected to new three-year tenures Sunday.

The five are: John J. Osterman Jr., Grove City; Beale Fry, Grove City; L. J. Bennett, Columbus; Frank Brendel, North Canton, and Robert Dreidame, Cincinnati.

Reelected to serve one-year terms were J. Berkley Roach, London, president, and Fry, vice president. Likewise renamed for on year were Brendel, vice president of the Northern Area, and George T. Harris, Cincinnati, Southern Area vice president.

Indians Win 5 of 11 Tilts On Road Trip

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' first eastern road trip was marked by some spectacular ups and downs, and the Tribe came through with five victories against six defeats.

Indian bats blazed for seven runs in each of the last three weekend games at Washington, but the pitching broke down—except for one strong performance by Luis Tiant.

Tiant pitched a fine six-hitter in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Fred Whitfield hit a grand slam home run, easing the pain of seeing the first game slip away after it had been all but won.

The Indians won 7-3 after losing 8-7.

Ralph Terry, whose usually fine control was missing, was chased in the seventh inning of the first game, with twin singles and Frank Howard's home run scored three runs, giving the Senators a 6-2 lead.

Then the Indians came up with five runs on five singles to go ahead 7-6 in the top of the ninth. Whitfield hit a pinch single, and Rocky Colavito, Larry Brown, Vic Davallillo and Chuck Hinton came up with hits to keep the rally going.

But relief hurler Gary Bell couldn't hold the Senators, and they tied it up in the ninth on Ken McMullen's double and Jim King's single.

Then McMullen rapped a home run off Dick Donovan, who faced only two batters, to give Washington an eleventh inning victory.

Sprints Help To Set High School Mark

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Olympian Jim Ryun of Wichita East High School attributes his amazing 3:58.3 mile — first sub four-minute mile ever run in high school competition — to his extra work in the sprint.

In any race a mile or less it's a matter of speed," said the 18-year-old, dark-haired lad. "I didn't start bringing my mile times down until I started working harder on the sprints.

"This time, I knew it was my last high school race and I wanted to make it good."

That amounts to a major speech for the modest Ryun. He is looking forward to four big West Coast meets, starting with the Modesto, Calif., Relays May 28.

But he won't speculate on his chances against great veteran milers such as Dwylo Burleson, Jim Grelle, Tom O'Hara and Peter Snell of New Zealand, the world record holder at 3:54.1.

Ryun's 3:58.3 at the Kansas State meet Saturday is a tremendous accomplishment because he did it with no one pressing him the last half mile.

His coach, J. D. Edmiston, timed his last quarter in 55.7 seconds. The crowd of 7,000 urged him on all the way.

Ryun's time is better than the NCAA meet record of 3:59.8 by Burleson and compares to the American record of 3:55.5 by Jim Beatty, and the collegiate mark of 3:56.9 by O'Hara.

Reliever Loses On Single Pitch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syracuse relief pitcher Johnny Seale threw one pitch—and suffered his first loss of the season.

Seale relieved Glen Hobbie with one man on base and Toronto trailing by one run. One pitch later, the Maple Leaf had their sixth consecutive International League victory, 6-5, on pinch hitter John Gibson's home run.

Elsewhere, Jacksonville stopped an Atlanta winning streak at six games by defeating the league leaders 9-2 in the first of two games, but the Crackers nipped the Suns 3-2 in the second game; Buffalo and Rochester split with the Bisons winning the first game 11-7 and the Wings taking the second 4-3, and Columbus defeated Toledo 5-3 in a rain - shortened game.

Santa Anita Derby winners, Hill Gail (1952) Determine (1954) and Swaps (1955) went on to win the Kentucky Derby.

Mayer Wins At New Orleans

1957 Golf King Stages Comeback

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —Dick Mayer, who dropped out of sight just months after he became king of golf in 1957, will tell you that it's sometimes a little heartbreaking for a former champion to attempt a comeback.

But the 42-year-old Mayer, who came from the same era of golf that produced such greats as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson, struck a blow for old age and sentiment Sunday when he chipped in from at least 90 feet out on the 18th hole to win the $100,000 New Orleans Open. He shot a 68 in the final round for a 273 total.

Bruce Devlin and Billy Martindale finished in a tie for second with 274s and pocketed $9,400 each. Both finished with 70s.

Jack Nicklaus, the favorite here, finished Sunday's round with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 275. This left him tied with Jack Cupit and George Knudson for fourth place, which was worth $4,500 to each. Arnold Palmer was well down the list, with a 284 total worth $258.

Mayer, a native of New England who now makes his home at Palm Desert, Calif., was at his prime in 1957. He won the U. S. Open, the $100,000 World Championship of Golf, was named Golfer of the Year and led the nation's money winners with $65,835.

Then, beset by personal problems, Mayer made the short trip to oblivion. By 1960 his name was forgotten.

Mayer played a tournament now and then just to maintain contact with the game, but made his living as a stockbroker, selling insurance, working at his father's automobile agency and ranching.

"I just don't know whether I wanted to go in in 1957," he said. "I had lost all my confidence and really didn't think I wanted to play. I guess you can just say I gave up."

The New Orleans Open was Mayer's sixth tournament of the year and the only one in which he finished high enough in the standings to make expenses. First prize was worth $20,000.

Welter Champ Retains Title

Hernandez, who weighed 134½ to Rossito's 137½, scored heavily to the challenger's head and cut his left eyebrow in the fourth round. Rossito's seconds worked feverishly over him between rounds but the Colombian was unable to answer the bell for the fifth.

The Venezuelan champ won his 36th fight in 39 starts. For Rossito, it was his seventh loss in 54 fights.

Wood Wins Low Hurdles, Sets District Record

Circleville's Jim Wood set a blistering pace in the 180-yard low hurdles Saturday night at Worthington as he blazed to a win in 19.4 in the event. He established a new district mark and earned a berth in the regional meet.

The regionals will be held Saturday at Worthington with preliminary events beginning at 9 a. m. The finals in the running events are set for 2:30 p. m.

Logan Elm Splits Two With Kingston

The Logan Elm Braves split a twin bill with visiting Kingston Saturday, losing the first game, 7-2, and winning the second, 17-12.

In the first game, Kingston led off with two runs in the first inning, scored one in the fourth, three in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Logan Elm was limited to four hits by D. Crawford, Kingston hurler, and scored single runs in the third and fourth innings. One of the Logan Elm runs came on a four sacker by Darryl Reichelderfer.

Jeff Lutz was charged with the loss. He went the route on the mound, fanning 15, walking five and giving up 10 hits.

CRAWFORD aided his own cause by blasting a home run and a single, driving in two runs in the game.

The second game turned into a real slugfest with the Braves cracking three homers, two doubles and a triple.

Russ Merrin had the three sacker and one of the circuit clouds. Reichelderfer blasted a homerun as did Dale Jenne. The doubles were hit by Danny Dahl and Mike Spangler.

Merrin started on the mound for the Braves, going the first four innings and allowing 10 of the 12 runs Kingston scored.

Spangler worked the final three innings.

For Kingston, Bennett started, was relieved by Miller in the fourth and then returned to the mound. Crawford, who won the first game, came on at the end of five to finish the second.

Crawford hit two home runs and had 5 RBIs in the second tilt.

Foyt Grabs Pole in '500'

Qualifier Sets 161 Mph. Mark

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A. J. Foyt owns all the records for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway from the 150-mile point to the finish. And he'll be in an ideal spot May 31 to pick up the other marks.

Foyt, 30, four-time national driving champion from Houston, Tex., won the 500 last year for the second time and set records all the way after taking charge at 150 miles. But the marks for the qualifications and the early part of the race eluded him.

He took care of qualifications Saturday by roaring four times around the 2½-mile track at an average of 161.233 miles per hour and hitting a hot lap at 161.958. He drove the No. 1 Sheraton-Thompson rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

As the fastest qualifier on the first trial day, Foyt will start the race in the pole position — inside spot in the front three-car rows of the 33-car field.

Nineteen cars qualified Saturday, at speeds from Foyt's record to 153.407 by Norm Hall of Hollywood, Calif. Two more qualified Sunday, filling a tentative line-up of seven rows for the race.

Twelve places at the rear of the field remain to be filled next weekend. After 12 cars have qualified, a car still may make the field with a higher speed than one or more of the earlier qualifiers. The slowest car then will be eliminated.

Only the 33 fastest cars will start the race.

Jim Clark, 29 former world champion of Duns, Scotland, ran four laps at 160.729 and one at 160.973.

Foyt, Clark and Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., all driving Lotus-Fords, will start in the front row.

Lowly Mets Dump Reds in Double Bill

CINCINNATI (AP) — The ninth - place New York Mets turned the tables on second-place Cincinnati, thumping the Reds 6-2 and 8-5 in a double-header Sunday in making a shambles of Dick Sisler's highly touted pitching staff.

"What is there to say outside of that I'll have to think of regrouping our pitching," said the Cincinnati manager after the double setback, which gave the Mets three of the four - game series in New York.

Just two weeks ago, the Reds swept a twin bill from Casey Stengel's crew, 9-4 and 10-8.

"I'm not ready to push the panic button yet," Sisler added. "It's too early for that. We're still doing all right in the standings.

In the first game, the Mets handed John Tsitouris his third defeat, and posted the first loss on Sammy Ellis in the nightcap. Tsitouris lasted less than three innings, and Ellis, winner of five, succeeded in retiring only five of the eight men he faced before he was yanked in the first inning.

Two Met veterans, meanwhile, succeeded in posting victories. Jack Fisher, with a ninth - inning assist from reliever Dennis Ribant, got his third triumph in the first game. Warren Spahn, 44, hung on for seven innings in the nightcap — although he was in trouble in every frame—to get his third victory against three losses.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS
Sealed bids will be received by
The Board of Public Utilities,
The City of Circleville, Ohio, for the Sewage Treatment Plant Unit
12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, 2
June, 1965, at the office of The Department of Water and Sewage, 114
W. Franklin St., for:
The purchase of a volumetric dry chemical feeder in accordance with specifications on file in the office of the Manager of Public Utilities.
Each bid must contain the full name of every person, firm, or corporation interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond with an approved surety company in the sum of $100.00 or a certified check in the same amount, on some solvent bank, drawn and made payable to The City of Circleville, Ohio as a guaranty that if any bid is accepted a contract will be returned into and its performance secured in the proper manner.
Should any bid be rejected such bond or check will be returned to the bidder upon the proper execution of the contract.
The successful bidder, if any, will be required to execute the contract within 5 days after the award of the same to him. In case of failure to execute the contract as attached the bidder will be considered to have abandoned the contract and the bond or check accompanying the bid shall be forfeited to the City of Circleville, Ohio.
The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
By authority of Council of The City of Circleville, Ohio, dated 2
March 1965.

PROBATE COURT OF PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
NO. 21782
LEGAL NOTICE
ESTELLA MAY ANDERSON,
Administratrix of the Estate of Helen Hoffman, deceased, Plaintiff VS.
ESTELLA MAY ANDERSON,
et al., Defendants.

Burton Dresbach, whose last known place of residence was 911
West Victoria St., Santa Barbara,
California, and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, executors and administrators of Helen Hoffman, deceased, will take notice that Estella May Anderson, Administratrix of the Estate of Helen Hoffman, deceased, on the 14th day of May, 1965, filed her petition in the Probate Court within and for the County of Pickaway and State of Ohio, alleging that the personal estate of said decedent is insufficient to pay her debts and the charges of administering her estate and she desired a sale of the simple of the undivided one-half (1/2) interest in the following described real estate situated in the City of Circleville, in the County of Pickaway and in the State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:
Being 10 1/2 feet off the East side of Lot Number Twelve Hundred and Forty-two (1242) and the West one-half (1/2) of Lot Number Twenty Hundred and Forty-three (243) according to the revised numbering of lots of said City of Circleville.
The prayer of said petition is for the sale of the entire interest in said real estate, the other one-half interest in said real estate being owned by Loring Hoffman, deceased, for the payment of debts and charges aforesaid.
The persons above mentioned will take further notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 3rd day of July, 1965.
Estella May Anderson,
Administratrix of the Estate of Helen Hoffman, deceased.

Coffee League Holds Banquet

Team and individual, trophies were presented when the Ladies Coffee Time Bowling League held its annual banquet recently.

The team championship trophy went to Nelson Jones, owner of Jones Store, sponsor of the top team. Mac Wolfe accepted the trophy for the second place team and Landmark was the third place team.

Winning the high series trophy was Jeana Brumfield. The high single game trophy went to Lucy Welch and the most improved trophy went to Ann Shaffer.

Since 1929 the only May foals to win the Kentucky Derby were War Admiral in 1937, Johnstown in 1939, Iron Liege in 1957 and Northern Dancer in 1964.

Coffee League Holds Banquet

Team and individual trophies were presented when the Ladies Coffee Time Bowling League held its annual banquet recently.

The team championship trophy went to Nelson Jones, owner of Jones Store, sponsor of the top team. Mac Wolfe accepted the trophy for the second place team and Landmark was the third place team.

Winning the high series trophy was Jeana Brumfield. The high single game trophy went to Lucy Welch and the most improved trophy went to Ann Shaffer.

Since 1929 the only May foals to win the Kentucky Derby were War Admiral in 1937, Johnstown in 1939, Iron Liege in 1957 and Northern Dancer in 1964.

REVIEWS PROCLAMATION — Everett Beers (seated), president of the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., reviews a proclamation designating May 17-23 as Mental Health Week in Circleville. Charles Alton, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Circleville looks on from the left. Jaycees members and the sheriff's department are placing donation containers in various locations throughout the county.

Weather . . .

all-glass faced Sheraton-Columbus Hotel, one of them from the 22nd floor.

Weekend golfer Jerry Bridges was playing the 14th hole at Black Hawk Golf Club, north of Columbus, when the high winds hit, blowing a tree over. It pinned him to the ground; two fellow golfers pulled it off him, and Bridges was rushed to a doctor. Fifteen stitches were required to close a gash in his neck, but Bridges returned to the course to watch his friends finish their round.

Several power disruptions were reported in the Columbus, Piqua, Troy and Cincinnati areas, but none was widespread and all power was restored by late Sunday night.

In Mentor, near Cleveland, 8-year-old Brent Ward was hit in the chest by a lightning bolt that hit while he and his two brothers and a friend were playing in their yard. He was reported on the danger list at Lake County Memorial Hospital in Willoughby.

It was in the Cleveland area where hailstones the size of baseballs were reported. Six Bedford residents were treated for facial cuts caused by the hail.

Flash floods, the product of torrential rains, struck viciously in Texas and South Dakota Sunday. Hundreds were driven from their homes and damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

The heavy squall of thunderstorms that triggered the Texas downpours moved into the East and South today. The Weather Bureau warned many areas to expect high winds, thunderstorms and hail.

Thunderstorms were reported early today from southern New England to Texas. New York State Police reported what they described as "a terrific windstorm" slash through the southwest corner of the state, downing trees and power lines. One trailer home was flipped 200 feet by the winds, police said.

River areas in southern Texas braced for more flooding today as rain continued to fall over most of the state.

Nine inches of rain fell in one burst at Killeen and nearby Ft. Hood reported 7.96 inches. Swollen rivers and creeks in the area forced 125 families from their homes, derailed eight cars of a freight train and swept several automobiles off highways.

Austin, Tex., the largest city affected by the storm, reported two to three feet of water flooded many intersections. Homes and businesses in low-lying areas were swamped.

Two tornadoes were sighted on the ground, near San Antonio and Frisco, but no severe damage was reported.

Observance Scheduled Here For Mental Health Week

The week of May 17-23 has been designated as Mental Health Week in Circleville by proclamation of Mayor Ben H. Gordon.

Contractors Slated for Commo Talk

Pickaway County Contractors will hear and see a program on the "Communications of Tomorrow" following their dinner meeting 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at the American Legion Home.

A. V. Kauffman, division public relations representative for General Telephone Co., will be the guest speaker. He will present the scientific marvels in the field of communications.

The television telephone, electronic switching equipment, pocket telephones, are but a few of the subjects that will be demonstrated during Kauffman's presentation.

Kauffman was graduated from Ohio State University where he majored in radio and television speech. During the Korean conflict, he served four years with the U. S. Air Force.

He is also an avid golfer and water skier. He resides in Portsmouth with his wife, Ginger, and children, Kelli and Ricky.

age was reported.

The South Dakota floods were blamed on heavy rains that fell in the Black Hills Friday. Those rains, combined with the 34-inch snowfall the week before, resulted in heavy winds.

Everett Beers, president of the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., said today it is hoped that this official proclamation will focus attention on the work being carried on by the local association as well as the state organization.

The Ohio Mental Health Assn. is celebrating its 35th year of service to all citizens of Ohio. It accomplishes this by helping develop county chapters; improving state mental hygiene services through comprehensive study and legislative action; providing informational material and speakers; and assisting communities develop mental health programs and facilities.

The Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., less than one year old, is holding its annual meeting 8 p. m. Wednesday at Circleville High School. On the agenda will be the election of five directors; report on the Scioto - Paint Valley Guidance Center, a report on services and the budget needed; the function of sheltered workshops; presentation by children from the School for the Retarded; and an explanation of services offered by the Ohio Mental Health Assn. by the field representative.

ANYONE interested is urged to attend the meeting as "people who care are part of the cure for the mentally ill."

Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce is assisting the local association by placing special canisters throughout the county under the supervision of Charles Alton. The contribution containers are also being placed in county villages by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Retarded Children Prepare for Program

Students of the Pickaway County School for Retarded Children are preparing a special program for presentation 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The program will be staged in the classrooms of The First EUB Church Service Center and is open to the public.

Chain Explosions Fatal To 27 Yanks in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Demolition experts, working with special time charges, today blew up four 500-pound bombs strewn across the Bien Hoa Air Base by the chain explosion Sunday that left 27 Americans dead or missing and 103 wounded.

Another 500-pound bomb buried in the smoldering wreckage of some of the 40 planes destroyed or damaged went off by itself. No one was hurt, but hazardous remained from the rest of 10 such bombs, rated as unstable.

Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Moore, commander of U.S. Air Force operations in Viet Nam and Thailand, said the bombs were fitted with detonation devices that could not be disarmed, and delayed action fuses might set them off any time within the next few days.

"We have evacuated all personnel from the area until our disposal unit decide what to do with the bombs," Moore said.

A U.S. spokesman said five Americans killed in the blasts Sunday have been identified and 22 others are listed as missing or presumed dead. He said 103 Americans — 29 Army men and 74 Air Force personnel — were injured.

The explosions at the base 12 miles north of Saigon Sunday caused more death, injury and destruction to U.S. forces than any single Communist attack of the war.

Gen. Moore said after a preliminary investigation: "I am satisfied no sabotage was involved. It was an accidental explosion of a bomb on one aircraft which spread to the others."

"The Viet Cong couldn't have done a better job themselves even if they had worked on it all year," said one U.S. Air Force officer.

U.S. officials said the disaster began with the explosion of a bomb that had been loaded aboard a B57 jet bomber for an attack against the Communist guerrillas. Within seconds neighboring planes in the flight, surrounded by crewmen and ordnance men, began exploding and burning.

Napalm bombs, white phosphorous fire bombs and 750-pound bombs all went up. Five minutes after the initial blast, the jet plane ramp was a mass of smoldering debris. Forty planes were destroyed or damaged, and the control tower was knocked out of operation for several hours.

Later an ammunition dump exploded, but no casualties resulted.

The Air Force sent Lt. Gen. William K. Martin, its inspector general, and a team of experts from Washington to investigate. In addition to the Americans, at least one Vietnamese was killed. Some sources said the death toll might climb to more than 30 as the wreckage was cleared.

Ten of the planes destroyed were U.S. B57 twin-jet medium bombers, two were propeller-driven A1 Skyraider fighter-bombers, one was a U.S. Navy F8 Crusader jet and two were single-engine Vietnamese spotter planes.

A helicopter and 24 Vietnamese Skyraiders were damaged. Eight B57s stationed at Bien Hoa were not damaged.

Moore said the loss of the aircraft "will have a negligible effect on military operations in the near future." Replacements "will be in Viet Nam in a matter of hours," he said.

He said the blasts left the base's main air strip unusable but planes were operating from other parts of the field.

For the fifth consecutive day, there were no U.S. air strikes Sunday against North Viet Nam. U.S. officials in Saigon again declined to comment on the reason. Reports have said the raids have been halted on orders from Washington.

The New York Times reported from Washington that the United States had temporarily suspended the air strikes as a sign of good faith to support President Johnson's offer to negotiate with the North Vietnamese.

Circleville Firemen Douse Dump Blaze

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the dump on the Island Road at 4:19 p. m. Saturday where rubbish was threatening to blaze out of control.

A spokesman for the fire department said there was no damage.

At 5:15 p. m., a fuel oil fired hot water heater exploded at the home of Ralph Jacobs, 1338 S. Court St. The blaze was out when the department arrived.

all-glass faced Sheraton-Columbus Hotel, one of them from the 22nd floor.

Weekend golfer Jerry Bridges was playing the 14th hole at Black Hawk Golf Club, north of Columbus, when the high winds hit, blowing a tree over. It pinned him to the ground; two fellow golfers pulled it off him, and Bridges was rushed to a doctor. Fifteen stitches were required to close a gash in his neck, but Bridges returned to the course to watch his friends finish their round.

Several power disruptions were reported in the Columbus, Piqua, Troy and Cincinnati areas, but none was widespread and all power was restored by late Sunday night.

In Mentor, near Cleveland, 8-year-old Brent Ward was hit in the chest by a lightning bolt that hit while he and his two brothers and a friend were playing in their yard. He was reported on the danger list at Lake County Memorial Hospital in Willoughby.

It was in the Cleveland area where hailstones the size of baseballs were reported. Six Bedford residents were treated for facial cuts caused by the hail.

Flash floods, the product of torrential rains, struck viciously in Texas and South Dakota Sunday. Hundreds were driven from their homes and damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

The heavy squall of thunderstorms that triggered the Texas downpours moved into the East and South today. The Weather Bureau warned many areas to expect high winds, thunderstorms and hail.

Thunderstorms were reported early today from southern New England to Texas. New York State Police reported what they described as "a terrific windstorm" slash through the southwest corner of the state, downing trees and power lines. One trailer home was flipped 200 feet by the winds, police said.

River areas in southern Texas braced for more flooding today as rain continued to fall over most of the state.

Nine inches of rain fell in one burst at Killen and nearby Ft. Hood reported 7.96 inches. Swollen rivers and creeks in the area forced 125 families from their homes, derailed eight cars of a freight train and swept several automobiles off highways.

Austin, Tex., the largest city affected by the storm, reported two to three feet of water flooded many intersections. Homes and businesses in low-lying areas were swamped.

Two tornadoes were sighted on the ground, near San Antonio and Frisco, but no severe damage was reported.

Observance Scheduled Here For Mental Health Week

The week of May 17-23 has been designated as Mental Health Week in Circleville by proclamation of Mayor Ben H. Gordon.

Contractors Slated for Commo Talk

Pickaway County Contractors will hear and see a program on the "Communications of Tomorrow" following their dinner meeting 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at the American Legion Home.

A. V. Kauffman, division public relations representative for General Telephone Co., will be the guest speaker. He will present the scientific marvels in the field of communications.

The television telephone, electronic switching equipment, pocket telephones, are but a few of the subjects that will be demonstrated during Kauffman's presentation.

Kauffman was graduated from Ohio State University where he majored in radio and television speech. During the Korean conflict, he served four years with the U. S. Air Force.

He is also an avid golfer and water skier. He resides in Portsmouth with his wife, Ginger, and children, Kelli and Ricky.

age was reported.

The South Dakota floods were blamed on heavy rains that fell in the Black Hills Friday. Those rains, combined with the 34-inch snowfall the week before, resulted in heavy winds.

Everett Beers, president of the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., said today it is hoped that this official proclamation will focus attention on the work being carried on by the local association as well as the state organization.

The Ohio Mental Health Assn. is celebrating its 35th year of service to all citizens of Ohio. It accomplishes this by helping develop county chapters; improving state mental hygiene services through comprehensive study and legislative action; providing informational material and speakers; and assisting communities develop mental health programs and facilities.

The Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., less than one year old, is holding its annual meeting 8 p. m. Wednesday at Circleville High School. On the agenda will be the election of five directors; report on the Scioto - Paint Valley Guidance Center, a report on services and the budget needed; the function of sheltered workshops; presentation by children from the School for the Retarded; and an explanation of services offered by the Ohio Mental Health Assn. by the field representative.

ANYONE interested is urged to attend the meeting as "people who care are part of the cure for the mentally ill."

Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce is assisting the local association by placing special canisters throughout the county under the supervision of Charles Alton. The contribution containers are also being placed in county villages by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Retarded Children Prepare for Program

Students of the Pickaway County School for Retarded Children are preparing a special program for presentation 7:30 p. m. Friday.

The program will be staged in the classrooms of The First EUB Church Service Center and is open to the public.
